PACIFIC COAST.

Rattlesnake Island Bought by the Gould Party.

CREIGHTON JUMPS HIS BOND.

Highwaymen Ransack the Mail-Bags on an Arizona Route. Buckley Interviewed.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—An attorney of this city who went to Los Angeles last week to conduct negotiations for the Gould interest for the purchase of Rattlesnake Island, returned to-day. He told the reporter that negotiations had been closed and the sale effected on Saturdy last, but he refused to mention the terms on which the property changed owners. It is said to be the intention of Gould to hold the island for the Pacific coast terminus for the Union Pacific, althongh it is not deemed likely that he will order the extension of the line through Utah until next summer.

CREIGHTON DECAMPS.

And Leaves His Bondsmen in the Lurch.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—A rumor was circulated this afternoon that ex-Senator D. J. Creighton, convicted of embracery in Judge Sullivan's court on Saturday last had left town and abandoned his bondsmen to their fate. It is stated that friends of Creighton had advised him to leave as he was on the verge of going to State Prison. Judge Sullivan at once ordered a bench warrant issued for Creighton's arrest, directing the officer who served it to bring the ex-Senator into Court if he could be found. The police have been searching for Creighton this afternoon, but he has not been found.

A FRUITLESS SEARCH.

A visit late to-night to the rooms of ex-Senator Creighton, who was yesterday convicted of jury bribery, elicited the information that the ex-Senator was still missing. "He went out with his wife early this morning," said the landlady, "for the purpose of visiting a friend. He did not say when he would return, so I don't know whether or not he will be back to-night. Yes, he left word that he would appear in court on Thursday morning."

RIFLING ROAD-AGENTS

Hold Up and Rob an Arizona Mail-Carrier.

FORT APACHE, Ariz., October 4.—A mail-carrier on the Post road to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, was stopped by four armed and masked men yesterday in a lonely spot fifteen miles from this post. The robbers rifled the pouches and carried off a money order remittance in the form of a check on the Bank of California, payable to Postmaster Bryan, of San Francisco. Payment of the check has been ordered stopped. The gang went through all the mail, but took nothing else. They compelled the carrier to wait fifteen minutes while they escaped to the adjacent mountains. No clue has been obtained to the robbers.

CHRIS. BUCKLEY.

He Says that He Will Answer all Charges Later On.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—When asked about the statements published, criminally connecting his name with that of "Little Pete" the convicted jury briber, Christopher Buckley, the noted politician, said that he would reply, and very effectively to the attacks made upon him, but thought it better to wait until the investigation is over.

CONFIDENCE BETRAYED.

A Trusted Official Robs His Employers.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—J. C. Vankirk, for many years an employe of the San Joaquin and Sacramento Navigation Company, has been found to be an embezzler. He was paid $200 a month, and was implicitly trusted. A week ago to-day he assigned his homestead to Captain Thomas Dwyer, of the Navigation Company. The shortage is not known yet, but is variously estimated at from $10,000 to $50,000. The embezzling has been going on for a long time. Vankirk has a wife and four children.

STEAMSHIP SUBSIDIES

Recommended for the Western Mail Services.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—It is stated that the Chamber of Commerce, at the next meeting, will pass resolutions recommending that subsidies be paid the Pacific Mail and Oceanic Steamship Companies for their China and Australian mail services. Congress will be asked to assist the American Steamship lines in competing with the Canadian Pacific.

MONTEREY CITY.

The Boundaries Changed—Muldrow's Decision.

WASHINGTON, October 4.—Acting Secretary Muldrow has decided in the case of the Pueblo lands of Monterey, California, that neither the military reservation nor the custom house lot passed to the city of Monterey under the grant of 1830, and that the decree of the Board of Land Commissioners did not extend the grant or confirm the title to the reservation or the custom house, though both are within the exterior boundaries of the grant as described in the proceedings of the Territorial deputation and decree of the board. The action of the Surveyor and Commissioner General of the Land Office, which included the land tracts, is reversed, and a new survey ordered.

THE NEW LINES.

Excluding them the southern boundary of the city lands as fixed by the Surveyor-General and Commissioner of the General Land Office is also changed and the same is fixed on the top and along the ridge of the San Carlos mountains, which ridge must be reached at the nearest point from the Laguna, section A, on the main road to the Presidio by a straight line and then following the meanders of the mountain ridge until the line encounters the boundary of the Ranchero San Cito.

FRESNO'S FAIR.

Successful Opening—Some Good Racing Promised.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—The Fresno fair opened here to-day with a good attendance. There are many fine exhibits of stock, but the agricultural display is given up on account of delay in getting the district organized. The races promise to be the best ever seen in this part of the valley. Tulare, Merced and Mariposa counties will be represented.

California Patentees.

WASHINGTON, October 4.—The following patents have been issued: William N. Best, of Los Angeles, portable centrifugal fountain; Paul Britirch, of Los Angeles, arched bridge; George M. Drum, of Los Animas, potato-masher; William J. Hunt, of Los Angeles, washing-machine; C. M. Jones, of Fresno, assignor one-half to S. C. Booth, of Selma, car-coupling; S. C. White, of Fresno, packing-plate for raisins.

Agricultural Display.

VALLEJO, October 4.—The fair of the Twenty-fifth Agricultural District of counties Napa and Solano opened auspiciously to-day. Over a thousand persons were present at the track. The pavilion display was very fine, every foot of available space being taken. The weather is favorable and it promises to be the best district fair ever given here.

Important Mining Venture.

NEVADA, October 4.—The survey of the Gold Bank tunnel began to-day. The proposed tunnel will be several miles long, and will tap the most principal mines of this district, as well as some in the Grass Valley district. It is an important enterprise, and if carried forward will prove of inestimable value to the mining districts here.

Quite a Celebrity.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—Miss Adele M. Levy, of this city, has been appointed G. D. D. P. for San Diego by the Grand President of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. Miss Levy is Financial Secretary of Alta Parlor No. 3 and Secretary for the Superintendent of Tomlee-Emanuel Sabbath school.

Boom in Brandy.

SAN JOSE, October 4.—The establishment of a bonded warehouse has given an impetus to the production of brandy here, though this industry is still in its infancy. This season the production will approximate 60,000 gallons, which will be worth, exclusive of the government imposts, about $90,000.

Arizona's University.

TUCSON, October 4.—The contract to build a Territorial University in Tucson was let last night to M. J. Sullivan. It is not at present the intention to finish the building, only to erect walls and cover it, and finish the structure as necessity demands. The grounds have been laid off, and operations will be begun immediately.

Monterey County's Fair.

SALINAS, October 4.—The eleventh annual fair of the Monterey District Agricultural Association opened here to-day. The pavilion is rapidly filling up with manufactures, fruits and other articles. There is a fine display of stock, especially horses, at the park.

A Newspaper in Trouble.

REDWOOD CITY, October 4.—The Redwood City Democrat which was sued last night for an alleged debt of $299, due Nelson Paddock, and on which an attachment was levied, was released to-day by the filing of a bond by District Attorney Buck.

Mrs. Von's Fate.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Mary Von, charged with the murder of Geo. Wesley Bishop, on the steamship Alameda, July 1st, last night returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree and fixed the penalty at imprisonment for life.

Congregationalists' Convention.

SACRAMENTO, October 4.—The general association of the Congregational churches of California assembled this afternoon in this city with a large attendance. Dr. J. A. Benton, of Benicia, was elected Moderator, and Rev. Geo. Morris, of Alameda, Scribe.

Chico's Fair.

CHICO, October 4.—The directors of the third district agricultural society reconsidered the matter and decided to hold their fair, commencing October 10th. There will be no races as the various entries did not fill.

Hopkins' Barn Burned.

REDWOOD CITY, October 4.—A fire at 3 o'clock this morning burned the cattle barn of Timothy Hopkins, of the Southern Pacific, at Menlo Park. Hay and straw was burned. The total loss is about $11,000, partly insured.

Another Vitriol-thrower.

SANTA ROSA, October 4.—Mrs. McKean was arrested to-day on the complaint of Mrs. Samuel S. Far for an alleged attempt to throw vitriol in the latter's face.

Shot His Nurse.

SAUCELITO, October 4.—The five-year-old son of J. W. Sperry shot his nurse-girl in play to-day with a shotgun. The girl's injuries are not serious.

Emerson's Trial Postponed.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—The case of J. F. Emerson, indicted for embracery, which was set for trial to-day, has been postponed for a week, owing to the sickness of the defendant.

Nast at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—Thomas Nast, the well known caricaturist of Harper's Weekly, arrived in this city to-day.

EASTERN NEWS.

The President Passes a Pleasant Day.

PARKER EULOGIZES BEECHER

Farmers in Conference at Minneapolis—A Sensational Story From Iowa.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

ST. LOUIS, October 4.—To-day's programme for the entertainment of the President comprehends a reception, a boat-ride to the fair grounds, a gorgeous evening pageant, ball and departure for Chicago at 9 o'clock.

The President was met at the hotel by the committee and escorted to the court house under protection of a troop of mounted police.

THE TRAVELERS' RECEPTION.

For two hours there was a reception by the Commercial Travelers' Association in the rotunda of the court house, which was handsomely decorated. The traveling men passed by the President in single file. Following them was the crowd, and handshaking continued until 10:30.

OFF FOR AN EXCURSION.

The reception over, the President hurried to the carriage through a side entrance and was driven to the excursion boat. At the same time Mrs. Cleveland left the hotel and was aboard the boat a few minutes later, and then the vessel steamed down the river for a trip to Jefferson Barracks.

PLEASANT PREPARATIONS.

The floor of the vessel was handsomely adorned with flowers and the United States arsenal band was in attendance. There were between 300 and 400 invited guests on board. The trip was gotten up as a relief for the President and Mrs. Cleveland from the almost constant round of receptions and other festivities. The boat ran down stream about eight miles, turned, and reached the landing again at 12:30. An accompanying excursion boat, containing artillery, fired a salute, while the tugs, steamers and locomotives on both shores saluted with steam-whistles.

THE AFTERNOON

Was uneventful. The Presidential party was escorted in carriages from the boat to the fair grounds, where they became the guests of the Fair Association, and lunched with a party of thirty or forty ladies and gentlemen in the club rooms. They then witnessed the races, and returned to the hotel for dinner.

IN THE EVENING

The President and Mrs. Cleveland witnessed a grand street parade of veiled prophets, illustrating by twenty-two floats some of the events of biblical history. The procession was about one hour in passing throughout its length. It was illuminated with colored lights besides the glare from 100 gas jets especially erected for the carnival. Later the President and Mrs. Cleveland were conveyed to the Merchants' Exchange building, in the great hall of which was given the veiled prophets' ball.

"HAIL TO THE CHIEF."

The were escorted to the ball-room, Mr. Frank Gaenni, president of the Exchange, and Mayor Francis leading, the President and Mrs. Cleveland next, followed by members of the reception committee and their wives. A trumpet call signalled their approach and they marched around the hall to the music, "Hail to the Chief." At the center of the north end, and upon a platform, were seats for the President and his wife, Mayor Francis and wife, and Mr. Gaenni and wife. The triumphal procession moved to these and as the honored guests were seated the audience of ladies and gentlemen, in full dress costume, roundly applauded.

A MASQUERADE.

At 10 o'clock the trumpeters announced the coming of the veiled prophets and the promenaders gave way to his excellency and court followers. His excellency led the procession, escorted by a train of gaudily and richly dressed men bearing banners of strange devices and arms of the feudal days. At 11 o'clock the Presidential party withdrew and were escorted to the depot and left for Chicago.

DOCTOR PARKER.

His Eulogy on Beecher at the Brooklyn Academy.

NEW YORK, October 4.—Rev. Dr. Parker, of London, delivered an eulogy upon Henry Ward Beecher at the Brooklyn Academy of Music to-night In the introduction, Dr. Parker claimed, as an Englishman, an advantage which no American could enjoy, that distance was essential to true color, and the perspective got rid of detail, friction and tumult. Three thousand miles away there was seen only the outline of the noble figure, the results were observed, not the process. In a criticism, therefore, of a man like Mr. Beecher, whilst some of the men in his own country are unable to escape the limitations of locality and vision, we must stand away from the mountain if we would see its magnitude. After some glowing tributes to America, its vitality, its freedom, etc., he said: "You have no primogeniture and entail, no House of Lords, no titular aristocracy, yet yours are the vital and noble conditions which made Henry Ward Beecher possible. Henry Ward Beecher never could have been in Europe what he was in America. You gave him scope, you created opportunities for him, your journals multiplied his influence, your whole people applauded and consolidated his independence. America possesses the balance of nations by showing that Cæsarism is neither necessary to greatness nor required for security."

"A THRONED KING"

The speaker briefly outlined Mr. Beecher's early career, until he became the king whose throne was in Plymouth Church and whose sceptre touched the uttermost parts of the earth. Mr. Beecher's discourses he said were unique in their intellectual range though not free from certain monotony of conception and even form. Men have occasional powers now and again, they can soar high and work miracles in thought and eloquence. Beecher was great without toil—mighty without exhaustion and so redundant were his pulpit miracles that they were in danger of being treated as commonplace as other men's sermons were. Mr. Beecher had a supreme gift of language, as was betokened by his planet-like eyes, eyes as full as Shakespeare's, as radiant as Gladstone's, as expressive as Garrick's.

BEECHER'S VOLUBILITY.

In the use of words he was a necromancer, unconsciously so to a large extent, for he never knew how well he was expressing himself. Fluency in a preacher is often a disease, in some instances it is a crime, always a crime when it deposes conscience and prefers its own windiness to honest painstaking. It may be truly said that his thoughts were greater than his language. Every word had its own tint of intellectual beauty—every sentence its own weight of rich meaning, every sermon its own pictures, and its galaxy of stars.

SOME FINE METAPHORS.

The speaker added: "We did not always know where Beecher was in his theological thinking. Some of us could not follow him when he entered the radiant cloud and passed out of our sight. Some of us have no wings. The microscope cannot find fault with the telescope, though one can never do the work of the other. He never returned to us to report that the universe seemed smaller than he supposed it to be. He said in effect that in the universe of truth horizon beyond horizon stretches in unimaginable range and splendor. Constellation above constellation burns in solemn glory, and system within system rolls in silent light. Compared with which magnificence all that we know of day and summer is but the mitigation of darkness. He was the genius of an abundance of plentifulness, of inexhaustible riches for this reason. Men of all capacities thronged his ministery and he had a portion of meat for each, and a Masonic word which each could understand.

STARTLING STATEMENTS.

Evictions Practiced in Iowa by Brutal Britons.

NEW YORK, October 4.—A Washington special says that the General Land Office is in receipt of information that a British syndicate, which is said to have purchased a large tract of land in Iowa from the McGregor and Western Railway Company, is mercilessly evicting settlers, the title to the land being in dispute in the State courts.

A SETTLER WRITES.

"Women over 60 years of age, sick in bed, have been taken by six men and carried out into a driving storm. Delicate women have had their hands tied with cords and their flesh bruised, and then dragged shrieking from their homes. Children have been born at the sight of a band of evictors. Strong men have been run down by ruffians on horseback, and then hand-cuffed and dragged from their little possessions. I might go on and multiply instances where the sheriff, with a writ of ejectment in one hand, and a British contract in the other, gave these poor people their choice beteween these two evils, which they would take."

EVIDENCE BEING COLLECTED.

"Affiidavits of cruelty practiced are being collected," says the writer, "for use at Washington next winter and will be read in both houses of Congress. They are expected to create a sensation when the people of the East are brought fully to realize what native Americans are suffering at the hands of invaders.

FRIENDLY FARMERS.

Meeting of the National Alliance.—Strong Co-operation.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., October 4.—The National Farmers' Alliance began the seventh annual convention here this morning, with fifty delegates present. The Secretary reported 1000 more alliances added since last session, and that there are 600,000 members in all. The Southern Alliance has been invited to send delegates and move for a consolidation of the two.

A WARM DEBATE.

At the afternoon session Secretary Milton George presented his report. Mayor Ames welcomed the alliance and S. C. Kennedy of Iowa, responded. President J. A. Streeter made a short address on the report of the committee on credentials. A brisk discussion arose as to the number of delegates allowed for the subordinate alliances. After a warm discussion, which came near causing a split in the convention, a resolution was passed allowing each state at large a representation. The difficulty was satisfactorily settled.

THE RAILROAD COMMISSION.

Examination of Blair—Some Financial Transactions.

NEW YORK, October 4.—John J. Blair, first President of the Sioux City and Pacific Railway, was the only witness before the Pacific Railway Commission to-day. He said that Oakes Ames subscribed for 1000 shares in the Construction Company to build the road and other friends subscribed liberally, but none of them paid up. He said that at the time, being in need of money he sold 48,000 acres of land which had been granted to the Northern Nebraska Air Line, the principal buyers being the directors and stockholders of the company. The government bonds in possession of the company were divided among all of them in 1871 according to the shares each had subscribed. The government bonds were afterwards sold and the amount realized paid into the stock of the road. When the road was transferred to the Northwestern Railway Company in 1873, the road, machinery and rolling stock was worth about $2,500,000 to the Northwestern.

Fishermen's Perils.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., October 4.—Six fishing vessels from the Grand Banks arrived here yesterday. They report the gale of September 3d as exceptionally severe and the loss of life heavy. One of the returned vessels lost three men, another five.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Powderly Speaks on the Future of the Order.

HE PREDICTS GREAT SUCCESS.

The Delegates Evidently not Disposed to Favor the Anarchistic Party.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., October 4.—The General Assembly, Knights of Labor, convened again at 11 o'clock this morning. General Master Workman Powderly welcomed the delegates in a fine speech. General Secretary Litchman said that he desired to ask the convention for more time, as it would take two or three hours to get his papers in shape. An adjournment was therefore taken until 3 P. M.

CONCERNING THE ANARCHISTS.

It is widely reported that the General Assembly was likely to pass a resolution protesting against the death sentence being carried out on the condemned Chicago Anarchists. That such a resolution will be introduced there is little doubt, but that it will be passed, is not certain; in fact it is much more likely to be tabled. A canvass among the delegates shows a strong feeling prevailing that the Knights should let the Anarchists alone.

POWDERLY INTERVIEWED.

In an interview to-day T. P. Powderly said that there was a decrease in the membership of the Knights of Labor and that there were many branches to the labor movement, but the members understood each other better and that the many diversified opinions showed that the men were thinking. Time will come when the several grand divisions of the labor movement will unite in one grand reform organization and a perfect fabric will be the result. The great working mass of the people are wrong on the question of politics. They look too high and wish to reach the top of the ladder at one bound when experience teaches that it is folly. This is the most serious question with which we have to deal. I advocate that it is the small local officers that should be looked after with eternal vigilance. Let me elect assessors and I care not who elects the President. It is the principle which I wish to inculcate in the minds of all working men that they should attend to their local politics and the affairs of the state will take care of themselves."

AFTERNOON ASSEMBLAGE.

At three o'clock the General Assembly was called to order. Some 185 delegates were favorably reported, while a few were without the endorsement of the commission. The day was consumed in consideration of the contested election cases. There was a warm discussion which was protracted till seven o'clock when the convention adjourned until to-morrow morning.

TELEGRAPHIC TOPICS.

Baltimore and Ohio Meeting—Its Transfer Talked of.

NEW YORK, October 4.—A statutory meeting of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company was held to-day to elect five directors. The election resulted in the choice of D. H. Bates, Robert Garrett, E. R. Bacon, E. M. Leslie and E. C. M. Bunell. John E. Zublin, who represented President Bates, was asked if the sale of the telegraph company to the Western Union was to come up at the meeting. He replied: "It will not; for it cannot. I can't say what the railroad people will do. I am a large stockholder in the telegraph company and I don't look as though I had to sell out, do I?"

EVERYTHING SETTLED.

PHILADELPHIA, October 4. — The Record to-morrow will say: "It is authoritatively stated in this city yesterday that the negotiations between the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph, by which the former is to obtain control of the latter, has been practically settled, and will be made known formally at the next annual meeting of the stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

THE PERALTA GRANT.

An Application for a Government Survey Denied.

WASHINGTON, October 4.—Commissioner Sparks, of the General Land Office, has received from the Surveyor-General of Arizona a report of his action on the application made to his office for a preliminary survey of the old Peralta private land claim in that Territory, which embraces about 48,000,000 acres. The Surveyor-General declines to entertain the application for the reason that Congress has withheld from his office the usual appropriation for the investigation of private land claims, and as an investigation would be necessary in this case, the application is denied. This claim was discussed at length by Commissioner Sparks in his annual report of 1885, and it is believed by the Commissioner that he fully established its fraudulent character.

THE VICTORIOUS VOLUNTEER.

She Starts for Marblehead—A Warm Ovation.

NEW YORK, October 4.—The Volunteer left for Marblehead this morning via the East river. From Bay Ridge to the time the vessel was out of reach of hearing, she was made the recipient of salutes of all kinds. Yachts sent the craft off with cannon salutes, while tugs and steamboats tooted. The crowd in Brooklyn also joined and the enthusiasm was continued all along East river until the peerless craft had passed almost out of sight.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD

DETROIT, October 4.—The propeller California sunk at 2 o'clock this morning off Gros Cape, Lake Michigan. Sixteen lives were lost.

The California left Chicago Saturday night and was struck by yesterday's gale in Lake Michigan. The hold soon filled and extinguished the fires, and about 1 o'clock, when off St. Helena, she broke up and in a few minutes went down. Seven of the crew reached Point Leasborbes in almost a lifeless condition.

HEAVILY LADEN.

The California was bound for Montreal to-day with 20,000 bushels of corn and 7000 barrels of pork, and carried a crew of 22 and three passengers.

VIEW FROM THE SHORE.

The wreck lies a mile from shore, and a heavy sea is breaking over it. The hull is under water, the masts are gone and the cabin is standing on end. It is thought that nearly all the bodies will be found under it. Every one had on a life preserver, so the bodies will come ashore as they get clear of the wreck. Four of the sailors were unconscious when the shore was reached, and none could walk.

A SURVIVOR'S STORY.

Owen Rourke, the wheelman says: "After all hope had been given up the passengers and crew gathered in the cabin and put on life preservers. I was standing aft when the immense wave struck her and threw her over on her side. When she came down she appeared to strike the bottom and the whole cabin collapsed with a crash." Rourke says that he pulled himself into the lifeboat and cut it loose. There were eight others in the boat with him; they drifted around the straits four hours, the boat being full of water. The fireman and a passenger from Montreal, who were hanging on the sides were swept overboard and lost.

LATEST—THE CASUALTIES.

Later information places the number of lost at fourteen and the saved at thirteen.

NOTES FROM ABROAD.

Police Charged with Perjury, The Whelan Murder.

LONDON, October 4.—During the inquest to-day in the case of the victims shot by the police at Mitchelstown recently Harrington caused a scene by openly declaring that the police who had testified had committed perjury. Head Constable Brownrigg declared that he valued his police more than he did the lives of the rioters.

THE MOONLIGHTERS' MURDER.

Eight men arrested for connection with the killing of Constable Wheelan, at the time of the encounter between the Moonlighters and a force of police at Farmer Sexton's house some time ago, were brought up in the Police Court at Ennis to-day and formally charged with being implicated in the murder. A number of the National League, with bands, escorted the prisoners from the jail to the court-room. Cox, M. P., and Conybeare, M. P., were present in the court-room during the proceedings.

INTERNATIONAL ARRANGEMENT.

BERLIN, October 4.—The Bismarck-Crispi interview has resulted in a definite written arrangement between Italy, Germany and Austria. Italy has full power to take independent action in the Mediterranen, and should the Italian interests conflict with those of France or Russia, Italy will rely upon the support of Germany and Austria.

EARTHQUAKE IN GREECE.

ATHENS, October 4.—A shock of earthquake was felt throughout Greece at 1 o'clock this morning.

A SHOOTING SCRAPE.

Determined Contest Between Two Oregonians.

CORVALLIS, Ogn., October 4.—A shooting affair occurred here to-day between Gus Maddox and George Bowerlin, wherein the former received a flesh wound in the right arm and the latter a wound in the head which may prove fatal. The two men had been having trouble for a month and Bowerlin had threaten to kill Maddox on sight. The two men were evidently prepared for each other, for when they met this morning they fired at each other at close range, each using a Smith & Wesson 38 caliber revolver. Maddox shot four and Bowerlin five times. Maddox says he fired with his pistol after he himself had been shot twice and only fired as a last resort.

A CLOSE CALL.

The ball which struck Bowerlin broke the arch over his right eye and entered to a depth of 2½ inches, where it lodged. The attending surgeon says that no attempt can be made to extract the ball until reaction sets in. The ball which wounded Maddox entered the right arm above the elbow and came out at the shoulder. His coat was set on fire by the powder. Bowerlin fell at the last shot and Maddox walked away with one cartridge in his pistol unexploded. The cause of the difficulty is not certainly known and Maddox is reticent about it. Bowerlein yesterday evening bought a pistol-holster, saying to the storekeeper at the time that he intended to kill Maddox on sight. Both are young men, Maddox having a family. Public opinion justifies Maddox.

Cholera in the East.

NEW YORK, October 4.—The quarantine authorities report to-day four additional deaths among the cholera patients on Swinburne Island, making a total of fourteen.

DAILY HERALD.

DOWNEY CITY.

The Fourth Annual Agricultural Fair There.

A FINE EXHIBIT MADE.

Finest Vegetables, Cattle and Horses—The Races—Opening Address.

Yesterday was the opening of the Fourth Annual Fair of the Los Angeles County Agricultural Association. This Association was founded by the good people of Downey City, and the fair is held at that place each year. The history of the enterprise will be found further on briefly glanced at in the address of Judge Davis. This is pre-eminently a farmer's fair, and the farmers of Downey own, manage and control the affair in all its elements and details. The enterprise has been of great benefit to the country in which it is held, in the way of making known the advantages and attractions of that region. But for that matter, the fairs held at Downey have done great good to the whole of South California in the way of advertising the country at large.

The opening yesterday was made under a deep pall of woe owing to the death of T. R. Tierce, an old resident of Downey, one of her most progressive and respected citizens, and a director of the association.

The exhibits were hardly in order yesterday, but the President, Mr. C. A. Coffman, and the indefatigable Secretary, Mr. H. A. Scott, with others of the Board of Directors, were untiring in their efforts to get the chaos converted into order as soon as possible. The government and management of the association for the current year is as follows:

OFFICERS FOR 1887.

President, C. A. Coffman; Vice President, T. J. Kerns; Secretary, H. A. Scott; Treasurer, M. D. Crawford.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

C. A. Coffman, E. L. Barnett, T. J. Kerns, O. P. Passons, Geo. E. Skidmore, P. P. Livermore, M. D. Crawford, G. D. Bunch, H. A. Scott, T. R. Tierce, W. C. Holman, Willis Newton.

Superintendent of Pavilion, D. P. Kendrick.

Superintendent of Grounds, E. L. Barnett.

General Superintendent, C. A. Coffman.

DIVISION SUPERINTENDENTS:

Division A—Horses, Mules and Jacks—B. Walton, Compton, and Wm. Caruthers, Downey, Assistant.

Division B—Cattle—T. D. Chaney, Downey; C. W. Coltrin, Compton, Assistant.

Division C—Swine—Dr. G. W. Wolfe, Downey.

Division D—Sheep—Chas. E. Smith, Downey.

Division E—Poultry—Jasper Gee, Downey; Jno. C. Simmons, Downey, Assistant.

Division F—Farm Products—Willis Newton, Downey; T. R. Tierce, Downey, Assistant.

Division G—Fruits—J. W. Cate, Ranchito: J. H. Cocke, Downey Assistant.

Division H—Trees, Shrubbery and Flowers—S. C. Hammer, Downey, Miss Mattie Coffman, Ranchito, Assistant.

Division I—Agricultural Implements and Machinery—Jno. Townsley, Downey.

Division J—Domestic Manufacturers and Fine Art—Wm. B. French, Downey; Miss Lottie Davis, Downey, Assistant.

The exhibit is given in some detail below, that is, so far as this had been arranged. Another day the HERALD proposes to supplement this list with the exhibits of others which had not been put in order yesterday. Even as it was with all the imperfections of a first day on its head, the display was decidedly a handsome one. Finer apples, pears, quinces, grapes, peaches, lemons, oranges, walnuts, and all the products of the field, as well as of the orchard, were never seen grown out of any soil, or under any sun. Downey and the adjacent region has always been known as being one of the richest districts in Los Angeles county. The fair quite maintains the reputation won by this part of the county in the past. There is necessarily a great deal of reiteration about the description of a county fair, but such wonderful specimens of fruit and vegetables fascinates a reporter to go on with what would be very tiresome were the exhibit less meritorious.

E. L. BARNETT.

Had an exhibit of grapes, twelve varieties, including Muscat, Flame Tokay, Black Hamburg, Seedless Sultanas, Rose of Peru, Malaga, Champagne, Black Morocco, Zinfandel, Bleau Elba and Mission. The display was very artistically arranged. Mr. Barnett's display of lemons was very attractive, and his exhibit of apples, for variety and quality, could not be excelled in the world. His Bell flowers, pearmains, pippins, etc., were of superb development. He had quinces and apples, some of which would weigh a pound to a pound and a half. Mr. Barnett had nine varieties of apples. One of the most interesting displays was Mr. Barnett's English walnuts, of fine quality and size from trees 5 and 8 years from the seed.

L. W. HOUGHTON

Had a magnificent display of fruit, deciduous and citrus. Among this were some dozen varieties of apples and half a dozen of pears. The specimens would easily measure 12 to 15 inches in circumference and weigh a pound and upwards. There were quinces of quite as remarkable development. And another point about this exhibit is the clean, perfect condition of the fruit. There are no spots, worm holes or other blemish about the specimens. It is also noticeable that winter varieties of apples and pears abounded in the specimens shown. There were pomegranates as large as the apples on the table. Fine figs also attracted much attention.

H. HOOD

Made a good display of peaches of several of the latest varieties. He had also apples—Bell-flowers and Pippins of fine size and quality—and large winter pears of three or four varieties. Mr. Hood showed also some fine specimens of oranges. A plate of yellow tomatoes was among the novelties at the fair.

J. W. CATE.

Mr. Cate is always on hand at fairs with good displays. On the present occasion he shows some fifteen varieties of apples, including the usual names. The specimens were all that could be desired by any one. His display of pears was quite as creditable. And the same is true of exhibits of Lisbon, Sicily and Malaga lemons shown by Mr. Cate.

G. H. HARTER

Was to the fore with a magnificent display of apples. He had on the table fully two dozen plates of the fruit, with five apples to the plate. No one with eyes could pass without noticing the excellence of the display. Fall Pippins, New York Pippins, Limber Twig, Rhode Island Greening, Bellflower, Roxbury Russet, and many others were embraced in the display.

MRS. T. R. PASSONS

Had a fine display of jellies, including apricot, blackberry, apple, grape, plum, pear, lemon, quince, peach, etc.

VEGETABLES.

Downey, Los Nietos, the Ranchito and other parts of the county thereabout, are particularly noted as the home of the vegetable products of all sorts. The display at the Fair is very remarkable. No one can see these exhibits and not conceive the highest opinion of the soil and climate in which they grow. Potatoes weighing from one to five pounds, and sound to the core; sweet potatoes quite as heavy and quite as free from blemishes; corn in half-bushel lots that have sixteen to twenty rows to the cob, and which measure a foot to eighteen inches in length, the stalks being twenty feet high, and some of them bearing six ears to the stalk, are some of the remarkable things seen here. These mammoth ears of corn are so perfect that there is not a grain missing from the but to the point. Squash, pumpkins and other field products are quite as remarkable.

Among the exhibits were noticed a basket of sweet potatoes, each specimen in which would weigh from two to five pounds. They were perfectly sound and free from all blemishes. A half-bushel of red potatoes, on exhibition by G. R. French, was very fine. A bushel of Stray Beauty—red potatoes—was quite as remarkable. A half-bushel of Peach Blow potatoes was made up of beautiful and perfect specimens, as was also a lot of common red of remarkable size. A half-bushel of yellow dent corn on the cob shows what Downey can do in this respect. These had twenty rows to the ear, each of which was nearly a foot long. A half bushel of white potatoes was shown, in which single specimens would weigh five pounds, and there was not a fleck of imperfection about one of them. In a half bushel of small yellow corn the cobs were ten to twelve inches long, and there was not a missing grain from but to point. There was a fine half bushel of blue Jersey potatoes on the table. Here is one of the places for the coming industry of California, the growing of sugar beets. Mr. Fox had four specimens in his display, and these will weigh fifty pounds each and upwards. A display of sweet potatoes, embracing the yellow, white and deep pink was very attractive. H. Hood showed these, and of one sort of sweet potatoes he had some of the present crop, and a score of very large ones of the crop of a year ago.

PUMPKINS.

Pumpkins and squash of all sorts, shapes and sizes,—excepting small ones,—lay all over the floor. All the farmers around Downey, Los Nietos and Ranchito raise these crops, and they grow so large it will be hard to tell who is to get the prize. It is a common thing to see specimens which weigh 150 to 175 pounds each. They are round, prolate, long, wry-necked; yellow, red, russet and white; but they are all fine.

CORN.

Corn grows at Downey which is twenty feet high, with half a dozen ears to the stalk. Go to the fair and see it There are twenty rows to the ear and the ears are a foot long. There is not a missing grain on the ears.

Common varieties of beets grown in the fine soil around Downey weigh fifty to seventy-five pounds each. You see such at the fair and they will let you weigh them if you like.

THE STOCK YARDS.

Mr. C. A. Coffman exhibits a year-old thoroughbred Durham bull—beef strain, which is a beautiful animal. He shows a cow of the same strain, with a fine calf two months old. The same owner shows a fine family cow—a graded Durham. Mr. Cranson's big Durham bull is a giant.

MR. T. D. CHANEY

Has a fine collection of thoroughbred Holstein cattle, including a bull bred at Syracuse, N. Y., three imported cows and several of California birth. The stock is a credit to the country and Mr. Chaney may well be proud of his exhibit.

MR. JOHN CHAPMAN

Confines his efforts to the showing of a Jersey bull calf only seven months old, but it is a beauty. He is of the Kerns stock, of which there is a good deal at the fair. Mr. Kerns shows a fine Jersey bull, a cow of the same breed and also a cow and calf. With such stock Downey need not go far a field. Durhams, Holsteins and Jerseys make a good showing.

C. B. WOODHEAD

Has in charge of S. H. Dilliner, a fine young thoroughbred Jersey bull, 3 years old, named Chantee Sultan. The animal cost $1500 on board cars in Ohio. His sire sold at 1 year old for $5600 in St. Louis. Mr. Woodhead has also Mariposa II, a fine cow, once the property of the late F. J. Barretto. Then comes—same owner—Youcaipi, a thoroughbred Jersey cow of great beauty. She will milk when fresh three gallons a day. In the same band is young Butterfingers with her calf, and a nice family group they make. Mr. Woodhead has a group of Durhams—milk strain— of the Waters' stock from San Bernardino. It consists of a fine yearling bull, a cow weighing 1050 pounds with a fine calf. The same owner has two fine roan Durham cows, large and shapely.

GEORGE CLARKE

Has a fine two-year-old stallion, a scion of L. J. Rose's Del Sur, out of a Belmont mare. He shows his pedigree.

J. H. LEIHY,

Of Santa Monica, has at the Fair, Captain Clark, by Captain Jack, he by Williamson's Belmont; dam by Captain Jack.

S. B. WELLER

Has a fine stallion named Vendee, a thoroughbred Percheron, imported direct from Normandy. He is 9 years old, 16½ hands high, and weighs 1,675 pounds. He is the most shapely horse of his breed seen in a long time.

M. N. NEWMARK,

From Compton, has a roadster stallion, Rolly, a Chieftian Black Eagle horse. He is a fine horse in all respects. He is 4 years old.

THAYER & CONAVAN,

Of Downey, has a fine colt named Billy R., bought of W. R. Rowland, of Puente. He is sired by Judge Salisbury, he by Nutwood; dam Rowland's Nellie, by A. W. Richmond. He is only a yearling, and gentle as a kitten, and goes in 29 seconds already or a 3:56 gait. The colt is a beauty. The same owners show a pair of Richmond stallions, father and son, aged 6 and 3 years respectively. They are H. M. Johnston stock; sire, A. W. Richmond; dam, Susie Hill; inbred stock and they show it.

Messrs. Thayer and Conavan show eight standard grade horses, seven of them Richmonds and one Del Sur. They are all fine animals and show what Downey alfalfa will do in the way of horseflesh.

THE RACES.

At half-past one o'clock General Sanford, of Santa Fe Springs, called the first race, a trot. There were only two entries for the trial, Mr. J. H. Dunning and Mr. J. D. Denman. They got off well together on the first start, and Dunning's white stocking horse at once took the lead, which he kept to the finish. Denman's bay went into the a[illegible] every quarter of a mile. At the end o[illegible] the heat the horses were retired and their places taken by two Santa Ana horses, a dark brown, owned by Mr. Kennedy, and a bright bay, the property of Mr. Felton. The first attempt was a go again, the bay taking the lead. It was a pretty close race during the first half mile, the two going nearly side by side all the way. At the three-quarter stake they were going almost neck and neck. The dark horse in the home stretch made a good dash for victory, but the bay reached too far and passed first under the wire, taking first money, Dunning's horse second and Kennedy's third.

JUDGE DAVIS

Was here introduced by Gen. Sanford, and he delivered the opening address of the Fair. Senator L. J. Rose had been invited to deliver the address, but at the last moment Mr. Rose was called away to San Francisco, and Judge Davis was selected to take his place. The Judge paid a merited compliment to Mr. Rose, stating that the senator had last winter obtained an appropriation of $1000 from the state to aid the fair. He also referred in a few very feeling remarks to the death of Mr. Tierce, whose accidental death happened yesterday, particulars of which appeared in the HERALD yesterday. The speaker announced that at 3 o'clock to-day the funeral would take place, the fair adjourned to attend it.

Judge Davis then reviewed the history of the fair. The grounds bought four years ago for $2500 are to-day worth $10,000. The stock is proportionately increased in value. He referred to the great display of fruit, vegetables, herds of Durhams, Holsteins, Jerseys, horses, etc. The crazy quilts the girls of Downey make to make the young "men crazy" was the next subject, and the bread and cake made of home-made flour, and by the hands of Downey's fair girls. The babies of the country came in for much comment—of course complimetary in character, first, because the babies of Downey deserve a compliment, and second, because their mammas were out in great force to take vengeance on any who spoke otherwise than complimentary of young Downey.

Judge Davis' speech was listened to with great pleasure by a large crowd of people from the neighborhood who had gathered onto the grand stand.

RUNNERS.

A running race followed, in which three horses started. Hicky, of Santa Ana, owned one and Pedro Lugo owned the others. The horses were being saddled for the race when the hands of time, which waits for nothing, admonished the reporter that it was time to get to the depot if he wished to catch the train and get his scraps of news to the office for the paper. This prevented him from learning the result of the contest.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME.

The programme for to-day is as follows:

10 A. M.—Grand parade of all stock entered for exhibition.

11 A. M.—Judges of machinery, domestic manufactures, fine arts, fruits, flowers and farm products will begin examination of exhibits.

2 P. M.—Trotting race for three-year-olds that have not been named in a race in 1887; purse, $60; $30 to first, $20 to second, $10 to third.

3:30 P. M.—Running race, free to all; one-half mile and repeat; purse, $50; $30 to first, $20 to second.

Undelivered Messages.

Damages for Imprisonment.

Allie Scott brought suit in the Superior court yesterday against Wells, Fargo & Co., to recover $25,000 damages for false imprisonment. Plaintiff alleges that the agents of the defendant siezed and bound her on the 26th of August and carried her off to Arizona against her will. This action she thinks damaged her to the extent of $25,000.

The Latest and Greatest Discovery.

DR. J. DE PRATI'S HAMBURG FIGS.—A crystallized fruit cathartic. A discovery of the greatest interest to the medical profession. A boon to every household. A most delicious laxative or purgative prepared from fruits and vegetables. So perfectly harmless that they may be administered with entire safety to an infant. So efficacious to adults that a single dose will prove their value, and so elegant a preparation that it needs only to be presented to the public to become a necessity in every household throughout the land. For liver complaint, habitual constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia and piles, they are a specific. To travelers by sea and land they will be found invaluable; they are positively unfailing in their action, and this is the only medicine ever offered to the public that is acceptable to the taste, and so pleasant that children will eat the figs as eagerly as candy. For sale by every druggist throughout the world. Price, 25 cents a box. J. J. Mack & Co., Proprietors, 9 and 11 Front street San Francisco, Cal.

I visited St. Helena for change of climate, but found it too hot. Then I went to Hayward's and it was too dull. At Berkeley the students annoyed me with their hoodlumism. It was too foggy in San Frrncisco and too bleak at Santa Cruz. Wherever I went I was uncomfortable, uneasy and unsettled. A friend suggested that this state of unrest might possibly be occasioned by billiousness or a disordered stomach, and advised a trial of Frese's Hamburg Tea, giving me a package as a present. Since then I use it occasionally and was never better in my life. I advise all to try it.

JUDGE CHENEY'S REMARKS.

He Desires Respectable Citizens to Act as Jurors.

Judge Cheney, yesterday morning, on opening court in Department One, delivered a little address to the term trial jurors. He said that the remarks made the previous day by him respecting the tendency of jurors, regularly empanneled, to give excuses in order not to serve, had been misunderstood. He had had no desire to criticize the Board of Supervisors. All he had intended to convey to the panel was that in his three years' experience on the Los Angeles Superior bench he had found, on the part of term trial jurors, too great a disposition to avail themselves of any little ailment, mentioned in the statutes as a cause for not serving their country in the conduct of criminal trials. He wanted jurors to be more self-sacrificing, and hoped that excuses would not be offered unless very well grounded. Far from having meant to criticize the Board and the panel, His Honor said he was well aware that the jurors had been chosen from the body of representative men of the county, and he knew they were just the class of men who were needed to try important criminal cases. But if they got themselves excused, then it became necessary to issue special venires to pick up on the street whoever could be secured to act as jurors, provided they had the statutory qualifications, and among such jurors there were often undesirable persons. Judge Cheney then excused the panel until this morning at 10 o'clock.

Board of Supervisors.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment, and transacted the following business:

On motion of Supervisor Venable the contract of O. E. Brady for the Courthouse was accepted and the chairman authorized to sign the same on behalf of the county. The form of bond to be that made by S. M. White and signed by the same or other equally acceptable sureties.

On motion of Supervisor Venable the services of Wm. Curlett as architect on said courthouse were accepted.

A warrant of $10 in favor of August Harris, an indigent, was drawn.

The Auditor was allowed ten clerks to foot assessment rolls, at a salary of $100 per month.

A warrant of $100 was ordered drawn in favor of A. Montano for a computing machine.

On motion of Supervisor Martin the county's proportion of Court street was ordered to be paved with bituminous rock.

The Board then adjourned to meet to-day at 10 A. M.

The Verdict.

Coroner Meredith returned yesterday afternoon from Downey where he had been to hold an inquest on the remains of Tucker R. Tierce. The evidence showed that Mr. Tierce and his son were driving over the Downey City Fair Grounds on Monday evening. Just after crossing a bridge, two ladies in a buggy tried to pass them. This scared Tierce's horse and he jumped forward with a jerk. The sudden jerk caused Tierce to fall from the seat to the ground and one wheel of his wagon passed over him. Death was instantaneous. The deceased, who was one of the most respected citizens of this county, was a native of South Carolina, 62 years of age and married. The Coroner's jury found that death was accidental.

The Result of a Cutting Scrape.

Dennis McIntyre had a row with Mrs. Willis, on Laurel street on the 21st of August respecting his daughter, who was missing. R. T. Willis, annoyed at the opprobious names applied to his wife by McIntyre, knocked him down and the latter in retaliation cut at Willis with a knife which entered the clothes and punctured the skin. McIntyre was arrested on the same afternoon but gave bail. The examination of his case has been continued from time to time until yesterday, when Justice Austin held him to answer on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. McIntyre gave bonds for his appearance.

The Bon Ton Bath Rooms

And Tonsorial Parlors, O. L. Susand, Proprietor, are fitted up in perfect taste and neatness. The many artists employed by Mr. Susand are noted for their dexterity with the razor; and for dressing and cutting the hair, shampooing, etc., the Bon Ton has no equal. The bath rooms, which are noted for their cleanliness, are all newly enameled, and to really enjoy a most luxurious bath, hot or cold, with shower, one must try these. The proprietor has likewise especially put up elegant new enameled baths for ladies and children. BON TON, 235 and 237 North Main street.

THIS office is now well supplied with the splendid G. A. R. edition of the ILLUSTRATED HERALD. It is superbly adorned pictorially, and printed in the very best style known to the art. The reading matter is all about Southern California, her climate, resources and other attractions. This is the best publication extant to send to friends in the east, who desire to know about this section. It is sold at the low price of 15 cents per copy.

THERE is a big row down in Louisiana political circles. There is no doubt that Governor McEnery and his political adherents have ruled the roost in the Creole State for many years; but that has been supposed to have been because their management of affairs was able and honest. This faction has had the warm backing of Major Burke and the Times-Democrat, and the supposition has been that neither the Major nor his paper would lend their aid to bad men or bad measures. A clique has sprung up, however, which is made up of men who envy those others who feed at the public crib. Their cry is "Reform!" It always is "Reform!" The "outs" always want to "reform" by getting in. Outside of Louisiana, and particularly among Republicans, it is generally accepted as an axiom that the cry is made for cause. The following from the Times-Democrat may help some of us to get a little insight into the "reform" measures of the Nicholls clique:

Down at Willow Grove, in Plaquemines parish, there were presenf at a late meeting, according to a "reform" paper, 548 voters of the fourth ward of Plaquemines, who pronounced for Nicholls. Is not this a rather tough yarn to swallow? In the last gubernatorial election "the persimmon parish" cast altogether only 573 Democratic votes. The Fourth ward is by no means one of the largest in the parish and at best contains somewhat under 300 voters, many of whom, we are sorry to say, are Republicans. Is it not a surprising mathematical feat that a ward with 300 voters, white and black, Democrats and Republicans, should turn out 548 supporters of Nicholls? Especially as The Times-Democrat published some time ago, the organization of a McEnery club in this very ward (the fourth), containing considerably more than half the Democratic voters, and we gave their names, too,—and they were not hotel register names, as in the Shreveport Nicholls club. The McEnery organization must have had some foresight of what was coming, for the resolution it adopted was as follows:

"The object of this club is to advovate and promote the candidature of our present worthy and heroic Governor, Samuel Douglas McEnery, before the coming State Convention, and to watch any and all peculiar methods that may be resorted to by the Nicholls combination to elect delegates from this ward to the parish convention."

Nothing like these 548 Nicholls voters has been heard since the days of Munchausen or Falstaff.

Some of the "reform" telegrams from St. Marv's parish may explain this discrepancy. On September 12th came the announcement of the organization of a Nicholls' Club in Morgan City, with Messrs. O'Brien, Green, Collins, George, Shinn and Serrill, as President, Vice-President and Treasurer. On September 14th, we were told again by the reformers of the organization of a Nicholls' Club in Morgan City, with Messrs. O'Brien, Green, Collins, George, Shinn and Serrill as its president and vice-presidents; indeed, Nicholls clubs seemed to be springing up in Morgan City, led by the gallant O'Brien, Green, Collins, George, Shinn and Serrill. A correspondent charges that these Nicholls gentlemen were all Republicans in the last election. We publish elsewhere the denial of the secretary of one of these clubs, who declares that one out of these six officers, president, vice-presidents and treasurer of the club, voted for Mr. Gay in the last hard-fought Congressional fight in the Third district. We are glad to know that there is one Democrat in the crowd, but one Democratic vice-president is scarcely sufficient foundation for the Nicholls clubs in Morgan City. The "reformers" need something to blow about, but their Falstaffian stories are not likely to get much credit through the State. Can they not give us a Nicholls club in Morgan City not organized by Messrs. O'Brien, Green, Collins, George, Shinn and Serrill, but with a few good Democrats as president and vice presidents by way of a change?

KANSAS is a pretty solid Republican State. The Republican party sets up anything but modest claims as to its devotion to the colored man—the man and brother. That devotion is being exemplified in a most remarkable manner in many parts of Kansas where the people are overwhelmingly of Republican bias. The colored man in the great grasshopper State claims the privilege of sending his child to the public schools along with the child of the white man and brother. This the latter will not have on any terms. The trouble is at a white heat at Fort Scott, where the schools are nearly demoralized over the controversy. If any one thinks Fort Scott is probably afflicted with any Democratic element likely to be the cause of this, he will modify that opinion as soon as he knows that every member of the School Board is a Republican. This fight is not a new one; for three years ago a graded school was established for the use of the colored population. But this the brother would not be content with. The negro children again made an attempt to get into the schools where the whites attend. Now suit has been brought against the Republican School Board for expelling from a public school a little girl who has so little African blood in her veins that it is only by tracing her pedigree it can be learned that she is not of pure Caucasian origin. The decision of the court will be watched for with interest. But whatever it be the animus of the Republican party towards the colored race when brought face to face with any of the problems connected with it is too manifest to be misunderstood.

THERE is now in full blast at Downey a display of fruit and vegetables which for variety, and excellence in all good qualities might well challenge the wide world for a match. All the fruits of the temperate zone are displayed in wonderful profusion, and in an amazing state of development, and side by side with these, is quite as remarkable a display of the fruits of the semi-tropical regions of the earth. The ordinary vegetables next claim attention for their gigantic growth and perfect soundness. Passing out to the stockyard, there is a very good showing of horses, including fine Percherons, good roadsters, and not a few animals of the best racing blood in the county. The offspring of the Sunny Slope stables, and of Ela Hills farm are there. In cattle, Jerseys, milk and beef strain Durhams and Holsteins vie with each other in the pedigree they claim. The animals are so fine as they came from the rich alfalfa farms of the Downey country that they might well dispense with all the books and pedigrees in the world, and stand on their own merits. This association is four years old and stands in its day of success as a monument to the wisdom and energy of the few men that established it. The Los Angeles County Agricultural Association, as it is called, has done much toward the development of South California. In the accidental death of Mr. Tierce, one of the most valued members of the association, it and the whole community suffer. He will be missed in many ways. The absence of the late F. J. Barretto is another blow the association, and all of Los Angeles county feels.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Times, in a recent issue has this: "The platform of the New York Democrats says that the payment of employés should be weekly, and in money. It also advocates legislation that will protect and promote the interest and welfare of the laboring classes. The same old saw. But the workingmen of New York have trusted and waited too long for Democratic labor reform. They are now disposed to place that part of their political business in the hands of the anti-Poverty firm of George, McGlynn & Co." It is an unwonted pleasure to find our esteemed neighbor at any time, either half honest or half correct. When it is both to the extent of fifty per cent. the joy is doubled. It is so here. While altogether at sea as to fact and correctness about the Democracy and its shortcomings, and as to George and his propositions touching the fate of labor, the Times by implication concedes that there is no hope for the laborer in the Republican ranks. Under ordinary circumstances that journal would have called upon the workingman to take up a position of safety behind the ægis of its own party organization; but in the present instance an unusual qualm of conscience struck the lumbering craft amidships, and the confession is made that while the Democracy is supposed to be a hopeless refuge for labor, no harbor is to be found in the Republican party, and the recommendation is made that a George-McGlynn combination must be resorted to. From this half measure of truth and honesty we become more hopeful for humanity.

THE several tax levies are now complete by the action of the Board of Supervisors on last Monday. The county rate is fixed at 64.2 cents on the one hundred dollars, with 25 cents for roads. Adding the State rate including the one cent for the State University and the rate in the county where the road tax is payable, is $1.50 on the hundred dollars of valuation, while the city which escapes the road tax pays $1.25 on the hundred. The city rate as fixed by the council for municipal purposes is $1.30 on the hundred. In the pueblo, therefore, the gross aggregate of all taxes is $2.55. The county assessment has been raised from thirty-seven millions last year to eighty-two millions this year; and the city assessment for municipal purposes from seventeen millions to twenty-seven millions of dollars. The road tax is the largest ever levied by far. It is all needed for the purposes proposed, and if it is properly spent there will be no fault found in the premises. The state will get from this county about $500,000. The county will have for all purposes excepting roads $525,000, and for roads somewhere near $125,000; or a total of over $650,000. The city will have for municipal uses some $350,000. The gross tax on the county will be as near as one can get at it $1,500,000. Well, the county is prosperous, and the tax-payers are able to stand a little pull.

GERMANY is certainly exhibiting a very aggressive spirit in her foreign policy. The Empire is awake to all the exigencies of the situation. She is reported to want to obtain the little Island of Heligoland from England. The bit of land is only one-third of a square mile, and is a barren rock. There are two small ports on its bit of coast. It is said that Germany is ready to barter all rights in New Guinea, to add to this all her claims on Samoa, and then to throw into the scales the control of the entire Pacific, for this little rock. The price would be hardly too much. In case of a general war in Europe, should England find herself arrayed against Germany, that speck of land which is embraced in the "Holy Island" would be of incalculable value. It is only fifty miles from the mouth of the Elbe, and it is very strongly fortified. An exchange says: "Comprehensively the consideration would naturally be amity and general concurrence in foreign policy with England." But that is too shadowy to be worth much. Heligoland is the Gibraltar of the North Sea.

AN exchange says: "After Tennessee, Oregon is the next State to vote on the question of constitutional prohibition. The campaign, already under headway, is being conducted with much spirit. The election will be held in November." Well that is a queer way to conduct a prohibition campaign. It has been supposed that their fight was against too much spirit.

ARTICLES of incorporation were filed yesterday for an association which proposes to furnish Los Angeles with another place of amusement. It is probable that a large building will be erected and that in addition to the panoramic views to be exhibited provision will be made for regular theatrical and operatic entertainments.

YESTERDAY was comparatively a small day in real estate in Los Angeles. Yet there were one hundred and five deeds recorded of which only one-half were for considerations over $1000 each. The total amount of all sales was $274,238. City and country were nearly equally represented.

A DISPATCH from San Francisco, which will be found in our columns to-day, conveys the important information that the Gould railway system has purchased Rattlesnake Island, as the terminus of that system on the Pacific.

FOR SALE—TAKE NOTICE—A GREAT opportunity to buy some of the finest brood mares in the county. All supposed to be in foal by Stamboul, record 2:19¾, or Alcazar, three years old, record 2:23. By The Moor and the result of Beautiful Bells the dam of more celebrated trotters than any mare in the world, and Sable, the dam of Sable Wilks, the only Wilks that has shown any standard speed. This makes the Moor mares stand at the head of all breeding mares in this State,
There are about fifteen mares; five are by The Moor; the balance being by such noted sires as Echo, Whipples Hambletonian, Flaxtail, a half brother to Blue Bull, a remarkable breeder, and other noted sires.
Being overstocked, I am reluctantly compelled to sell.
Sale will take place on Wednesday, October 12th, at the Agricultural Park at 10 A. M. Catalogue day of sale. Will also offer a very fine double team of white ponies, perfectly matched and fast drivers, together with harness and light wagon.
All parties if desiring may have credit for ninety days on all sums over $200, but a note with satisfactory security must be given.

FLIMSY UNDERWEAR.

A Physician's Argument for Woolen Underclothing.

"Bad cold?"

"I should say I had, doctor," responded the reporter as he smothered a cough.

"What kind of underclothing do you wear?"

"The same kind I wore all Summer."

"Linnen or cotton?"

"I really can't say. Cotton, I believe."

"Did you suffer from the heat much during the summer?"

"Suffer!" I should say I did. I nearly melted."

"And you are a trifle chilly now that the cold wave has come?"

"I am, indeed; but what have my underclothes to do with that? I have always worn the same kind in the summer."

"So does almost every one. The use of linen and cotton for underwear is one of the commonest of all errors in this country. Now in Germany we have a movement which is called the German school of Clothing Reform. It aims to replace cotton and linen with woolen goods. There are many reasons why this should be done. Wool exercises a stimulating effect upon the skin, unlike linen and cotton and consequently promotes the proper action of the pores, glands and superficial tissues. It is a non-conductor of heat, and preserves the normal temperature of the body. It allows a freer escape of the perspiration, and thus lowers, by evaporation, any abnormal temperature of the body, and facilitates the loss of excessive heat. Also, through its non-conductivity of heat, it preserves the normal measure of warmth. Hence it is a better protection against the extremes of either heat or cold than linen or cotton."

"Well, those certainly seem to be reasons enough."

"Indeed they are, but they are not all. Wool is electrical, while linen and cotton are not. Wool can excite electricity, but does not conduct it. Therefore, a body clothed in wool loses less of its animal electricity, while fresh electricity is excited on the surface. The intimate relationship between galvanic, nervous and vital forces render this peculiarity of the greatest importance to the wearer."

"Why doesn't every one wear wool then?"

"Because," answered the physician, "the old idea of having something flimsy and gauzy next to the flesh is too firmly instilled in the minds of the manufacturers of underwear for them to experiment with woolen materials. I have cured a large number of sick men of seemingly incurable disorders by simply prescribing a change in their underwear. While it is not an infallible cure-all." added the physician in conclusion, "it certainly is of much benefit, and its general adoption would result in great permanent good."[—N. Y. Mail and Express.

Gladstone's Attorney-General.

Sir Charles Russell is coming to America next month to employ his Parliamentary vacation in a close study of such parts of our Federal State machinery as directly bear upon the home rule question. The man deserves well of America on his own account. He is probably the most eminent barrister at the English bar. Only two or three others command such big fees as he gets, and probably there is no other whose services are in such pressing and constant demand. His industry and powers of sustained and varied execution are fairly comparable to those of Mr. Gladstone. He not only manages to combine a great and exacting law practice with very steady attendance upon the sessions of the House, but he contrives to find time as well for more stump-speaking in the constituencies than the majority of his colleagues of ministerial rank are able to do. He was born in Newry, in the North of Ireland, fifty-four years ago, graduated at Trinity College, Dublin, and was called to the bar in London in 1859. In a very few years he had become one of the principal figures in the Northern Circuit, and at the age of thirty-nine he had attained the silk gown of a Queen's Counsel. He entered public life in the Parliament of 1880 as a Liberal for the small Irish borough of Dundalk, but was deterred from taking an active part by the conflict between the anti-Nationalist attitude of his party and his own Irish sympathy. When in a succeeding Parliament, Gladstone, now a convert to home rule, formed his memorable Home Rule Ministery, Russell was brought into it as Attorney-General. He became from the outset one of the four or five chief personages of this Cabinet, as he will be of the new one when Gladstone comes to his own again.—[Chicago Herald.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

Why order of sale of real estate should not be made.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE County of Los Angeles, State of California. In the matter of the estate of Francisca Urquidez de Sepulveda, deceased. Fernando Sepulveda, the administrator of the estate of Francisca Urquidez de Sepulveda, deceased, having presented to this Court his petition herein, duly verified, praying for an order of sale of a portion of the real estate of said decedent, to pay the debts, expenses and charges of administration of said estate, and it appearing therefrom to this Court that it is necessary to sell a portion of the real estate of said estate for those purposes and reasons, said petition was thereupon filed.

It is therefore ordered, by the said Court, that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, appear before the said Superior Court on Tuesday, the 11th day of October, 1887, at ten o'clock A. M. of said day, at the Court-room of Department No. 2 of said Superior Court, at the Jones Block, in the City and County of Los Angeles, State of California, to show cause why an order should not be granted to the said administrator to sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased, as shall be necessary.

And that a copy of this order be published at least once a week for four successive weeks, in the Los Angeles Daily HERALD, a newspaper printed and published in said county.

W. P. GARDINER,
Judge of the Superior Court.

In the Superior Court

OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, IN and for the county of Los Angeles. C. D. Platt, plaintiff, vs. C. K. Giles, defendant. Action brought in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and the complaint filed in said county of Los Angeles, in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court. The people of the State of California send greeting to C. K. Giles, defendant. You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the Superior Court in the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or if served elsewhere, within thirty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain the judgment of this Court against you, the said defendant, in the sum of $3064, said sum being a balance due plaintiff hereof from defendant, for services as compensation for making, conducting and superintending the sale of a certain stock of goods placed in the hands of Platt & Berman, by said C. K. Giles, defendant herein, for private sale or at public auction, as to them might seem best, as will more fully appear by reference to the complaint herein, with interest on said sum of $3064, from March 1st, 1884, and for cost of suit. Reference is had to complaint for particulars. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will cause your default to be entered and will take judgment against you for $3064, with interest as aforesaid and for costs of suit.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, this 26th day of February, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

The Champion Liar.

The snake liar and the fish liar, both bowed
In their gray old age;
Came traveling back from their journeys wide, from their earth-wide pilgrimage,
A tear drop stood in the snake liar's eye, and the fish liar groaned with pain,
And a death-like look of infinite grief came over the face of the twain.

"I cannot compete with the modern lie," the sad-e ed snake liar said,
"In it's limitless length and breadth and depth, and I wish that I were dead;
For I stand rebuked with a shame-faced look 'neath the triumphant gaze of the eye
Of the newspaper affidavit liar with his circulation lie!

"For the snake liar, and the fish liar, and the horse liar own his sway,
And the easy-going liars who work by the job, and the liars who work by the day;
The traveling liar, old inhabitant liar, and liars of low degree,
And liars who lie for the fun of the thing, and liars who lie for a fee.

"The horse liar, the peach crop liar, the sea serpent liar and all,
With their wide, untraveled wastes of cheek and their soundless seas of gall,
All bend their knee to the sceptred sway of this crowned and peerless one,
And the father of lies looks tenderly down on his most accomplished son!

—[S. W. Foss in Tidbits.

HE SWALLOWED IT ALIVE.

Startling Remedy for Fever and Ague.

"Malaria?"

"Yes, malaria."

"No, sir. I'm no more afraid of malaria than I am of you," and as the speaker was at least ten inches taller than the reporter, and proportionately broader, his fear of that dread malady was probably not excessive.

"I've had malaria and I've been cured."

"Yes, but a man can have malaria more than once."

"Not if he is cured the way I was. About ten years ago I was living in Indiana, Vigo county, near Terre Haute. In those days a man was not regarded as strong until he had drank about a gallon of whisky and quinine and shaken down his bedstead three or four times with the ague. A had a rather reticent nature, and I suppose it took the climate longer to get acquainted with me than it did the ordinary run of men. For I had to drink about a barrel of whisky and take whole pounds of quinine before I could get strong enough to even shake myself, let alone a bed. Old citizens told me that I had the worse case of 'feve 'n ague,' as they call it, that the county had ever seen."

"How were you cured?"

"I was just coming to that. I was living with the Dennis family, from the North of Ireland. Mrs. Dennis used to tell me that she could stop my chills if I only would take her medicine. She never would tell me what her medicine was, but always said that if I would let her be the doctor she would cure me. Finally, one day I agreed. She waited till evening. Then she brought to my bed a towel.

"'Bind that around your head so you can't see.' said she.

"'What's that for?' said I.

"'Who's the doctor—you or me?" said she.

"So I bound the rag about my head.

"'Now,' said she, 'take this glass of water in your right hand, open your mouth, take your dose and a drink of water the second it is in your mouth. Be sure and swallow what I give you.'

"I promised but there was something so omenous about her preparations that it was with no little apprehension that I opened mouth, held my breath, and braced up to take my punishment."

"Did it taste bad?"

"It didn't have any taste at all. It felt like a little ball of dust such as you find in the corner of the carpet. I washed it down several seconds quicker than instantly, you may be sure. Just as it was going down I felt a sharp pain in my throat as if it had scratched."

"'Is it down?' asked Mrs. Dennis.

"'Yes,' I said.

"'All down?"

"'Yes; now tell me what I've taken?"

"'I'll tell you to-morrow, and then you'll have no more shakes.'

"I slept soundly that night, but when I woke up in the morning my throat was swollen and very painful. About 10 o'clock Mrs. Dennis came to my room. She had a little pasteboard box in her hand.

"There,' she said, 'look in there and see what it is.'

"I looked. Then I felt the blood leave my heart. I turned cold and fainted. When I recovered Mrs. Dennis was standing by my side.

"'Did I take one of those?' I asked.

"'You took the mate of that one.'

"That was years ago and, I never had a chill after tnat day. My throat got well in time and so did I. I was effectually cured, but I wouldn't take another dose of tnat medicine to save my life."

"What was it you swallowed?" asked the reporter.

"It was a big, hairy, black spider, and it was alive."—[New York Mail.

THE SNAKE HABIT.

A Serpent Tale Which Staggers Colonel Thomas Ochiltree.

Mr. Mesereau, of Ulster county, was introduced to Colonel Thomas P. Ochiltree in the smoking-room of the Hoffman House last Saturday evening, and heard the Colonel relate some interesting facts about the snakes of Texas. Esopus is noted for raising big squashes and able snake historians. Mr. Mesereau is one of the latter products, and he has attained his full growth. When Mr. Ochiltree paused to relight his cigar, Mr. Mesereau said: "I believe some snakes have human nature and instinct in their system, and I will prove it to you. One day not long ago, while I was crossing a field on my farm, I heard a rustling in the grass. I looked and saw something that made my hair stand up so straight that my hat fell off my head. Not more than ten feet away was a black snake over eight feet long. The snake looked at me a moment, thrashed the ground with his tail, cavorted around in a circle, and then moved away in the direction I was going. I was so paralyzed at what I saw that I stood still like a balky jackass. The snake came back after going through the same performances as before he ran away again. That's mighty queer, says I to myself; I wonder what ails that snake. Again that snake came back, thrashed and cavorted around and looked in my eyes. This time I heard the courage to look more steadily, and I noticed a sort of appealing look in his eyes. I followed the reptile, which ran ahead to show me the way. He led me to a big lot at the end of the field. Under the log was the snake's mate. He wanted me to extricate him. I lifted one end of the log, the snake crawled out, and both of them streaked away. The next morning as I was eating breakfast I heard a knock at the door. I opened the door, and there were the two black snakes. They had a big, fat rabbit and a pair of partridge. They crawled into the kitchen, got upon a chair, laid the game on the table and then left the house. They had knocked at the door with their tails. Now, if you don't call that human nature and instinct, then I'd like to know what human nature and instinct are."

Colonel Ochiltree's cigar had again gone out, and as he left the room to get a fresh one, he murmured: "I wonder if there is any chance of salvation for a man who has the snake habit fastened to him."—[Chicago Herald.

Europe Waking Up.

Among Californian blessings, the chief is a healthy climate, and the healthiest and most delightful part of the Golden State is the neighborhood of Los Angeles. For consumptive patients, the dry and warm atmosphere of this portion of Southern California is peculiarly suitable, and Vice-Consul Mortimer states that "seven-tenths of those who have become residents here in the last seven years came in delicate health, or in company with some sick relative or friend." The inhabitants of Los Angeles are perfectly well aware of the high merits of their climate, and the great future before their town and district as a health resort. Here is how the Los Angeles Herald recently commented on the subject: "Mentone, Nice, Cannes, and other European climatic resorts feel keenly the inroads made by our advancement. Therefore we can well look for and anticipate attacks from those fallen Empires." So far as is known, the Mediteranean and other "summer stations" to which the invalids of the effete European Empires flock are still in happy ignorance of the fate in store for them. But it is pointed out that, in one important respect at least, the Californian "Land of Health" is incomparably superior, as a place of refuge for consumptive patients to the other resorts named. It is a respect peculiarly worthy of the attention of those who are considering charitable projects of establishing consumptive hospitals, and of sending abroad invalids, dependent, or desirous to depend, upon their own exertions for a livelihood, to spots where, even should the hopes of recovery be fulfilled, all the costs of living are high, and the means of livelihood almost non-existent. In Southern California the opposite conditions prevail; and "there is a fair chance for an intelligent man to make a comfortable living, when renewed health admits of his engaging in some occupation. 'The representations of California railroad, emigration, and land speculation agencies are not, however, to be accepted off-hand as correct descriptions of the soil, climate and prospects of the country. Frightful wrongs have been done and miseries suffered through the false misrepresentations of interestsd parties and the careless confidence of emigrants. There is desert as well as garden in Southern California, and more of desert than of garden. The poorest of the Los Angeles district is the Antelope Valley, and the Antelope Valley is "full of English and Scottish families, many of whom have not now means to get away." Mr. Mortimer visited it last year, and found that the bulk of the land is alkali desert, and that even where the land is good, the water is 200 or 300 feet from the surface. The settlers had been "located" here by the advice and arrangement of railroad agents in London; they expected to find Paradise, and their experience in the hot and waterless valley of salt has been that of "the other place."—[Edinburgh Dispatch.

DEFECTIVE SPEECH.

Some of its Causes in Children and How It Can Ye Cured.

On this subject we give the leading points of a clinical lecture reported in the London Lancet:

A child with a cleft palate uses his tongue and the muscles of the palate in an unnatural way. Hence, after the closure of the cleft by an operation, no impediment remains, because the patient is still controlled by his previous habits. He will need, therefore, systematic training for months or years to acquire right habits in the case. One prime requisite is that he fixes his entire attention on the teacher, and slowly imitates him as the latter pronounces the difficult words, making every movement of his lips and tongue as plain as possible.

The palate may be so highly arched that the child's speech is not much better than that of the former case. But the soft part of the palate can be lowered by an operation and the speech greatly improved by training.

There may be extreme backwardness in speaking, though there is no organic defect. Here a practiced eye will see that there is no mental feebleness. Speech training will be a part of the necessary training of the intellectual powers.

In other cases the mental powers generally may be good, and the child be indeed specially bright, but for some cerebral reason, he lisps badly or finds it difficult to pronounce the letters s or l, or he speaks in a babyish way. Such patients will generally overcome the difficulty in time.

Sometimes the voice is "stuffy," especially in endeavoring to utter m, n or ng. The word morning sounds like bordig. This is due to growths in the nose or back mouth. On the removal of these by a surgical operation the voice recovers its normal character. Enlarged tonsils sometimes cause a somewhat similar difficulty.

Another defect is stammering. Usually the person has a nervous constitution and has been subjected to some nervous strain, generally at school. In such cases all disturbing causes should be removed and the nervous system be invigorated as far as possible. But the stammerer must be taught to speak with deliberate enunciation, imitating the teacher in the utterance of all difficult words, and especially filling the lungs well at every stop.—[Youth's Companion.

How We Seem to Scotland.

California has just passed what, in the eyes of the citizens, is an important milestone in its career of progress! its population now exceeds one million of souls. Little more than a generation ago, at the beginning of the "gold fever," it was inhabited by only a few scattered tribes of Indians and a handful of ranchmen and mission priests of Spanish blood. It belonged to Mexico; but Mexico knew little about it and its possibilities, and Europe knew less. The corner-stone of its prosperity was laid upon gold; and the mining of the precious metals is still one of the great sources of its wealth. In the consular district of San Francisco, comprehending besides California the States of Nevada and Oregon, and the Territories of Washington, Idaho, Utah and Arizona, the value of the gold, silver, copper, and lead produced in 1886 was £9,439,338, or about half of the whole annual yield of the States lying to the west of the Missouri river. In the "Golden State" mining was very prosperous during the year, and the output of the celebrated Comstock lode of wealth has been struck in the soil of California; and the yield of its harvest has long ago exceeded the product of its mines. Last year the grain crops of the State were very abundant with the exception of wheat, and even of wheat there was an available surplus for exportation of 715,000 tons. Fruit-raising, especially the growth of the grape, is making rapid strides ahead, and in many districts both of North and South California the wheatfields lessen and the area of vineyards and orchards increases each year. In emigration and manufacturing industries there was a great development during 1886; and the population of San Francisco has reached 350,000. The competition of rival transcontinental lines, and the building of new branch railways are having a marvelous effect upon the settlement of the country. Five millions of acres have been entered upon for agricultural purposes during the last five years, and of this the Californian Immigration Association lays claim to having been instrumental in settling three millions. There is still thirty-eight millions of acres remaining unoccupied—about double the area of Scotland—but of this ten millions must be put aside as desert, mountain or otherwise unproductive land, and there are only 13 millions suitable for agricultural purposes, and mostly remote from existing centres. New towns are, however, starting up, and new lines are being constructed to bring out-of-the-way places near to the market; and as illustrating the growth of the State it is mentioned that 71 postoffices have been established in the course of less than a year. Before its Jubilee comes round California expects to be able to show more progress for fifty years than European countries can show in 1500.—[Edinburg Dispatch.

The G. A. R. Illustrated Herald.

This office is now well supplied with the spendid G. A R. edition of the Illustrated Herald. It is superbly adorned pictorially, and printed in the very best style known to the art. The reading matter is all about Southern California, her climate, resources and other attractions. This is the best publication extant to send to friends in the East who desire to know about this section. It is sold at the low price of 15 cents per copy.

A Useful Precaution.

It is a useful precaution for the tourist, the commercial traveler, or the emigrant to the West, to take along Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Invalids who travel by steamboat or rail should provide themselves with it, in order to prevent or remedy the nausea which the jarring and vibration of vehicles in transitu often causes them. Vastly preferable is it for this simple, but needful purpose, to the heady, unmedicated stimulents of commerce. On board ship, it not only remedies sea sickness, but neutralizes the pernicious effects of water slightly brackish, which, if qualified is apt to give rise to irregularties of the bowels, cramps in the abdominal region, and dyspepsia. To aerial poison of malaria it is an efficient antidote. Sick headache, heartburn and wind upon the stomach are promptly banished by it. It healthfully stimulates the kidneys and bladder, and nullifies the early symptoms of rheumatism.

$5,000 Reward

For a better or more pleasant remedy for the cure of consumption, bronchial troubles, cough croup and whooping cough than Santa Abie, the California king of consumption. Every bottle warranted. If you would be cured of that disgusting disease, catarrh, use California Cat-R-Cure. $1 a jar; by mail $1.10. Santa Able and Cat-R-Cure are sold and warranted by all druggists.

MR. A. HIGGINS, of Wyoming, N. Y., says he had the piles for nearly 40 years, and was cured by using Gilmore's Pile Specific.—C. F. Helnzeman, agent, Los Angeles.

OAKLAND,

THE BEAUTIFUL!

California abounds in choice residence locations, but of them all Oakland and vicinity is incomparably the finest. It has every advantage. Its climate is most enjoyable, being never uncomfortably warm nor disagreeably cool. Its many charming drives, its beautiful lawns embowered in a perfect wealth of ever blooming flowers, and its magnificent, soul-inspiring views are the wonder and admiration of all travelers. In healthfulness it surpasses all cities of the United States, its death rate averaging only 14 per 1000. Its educational facilities are thorough and complete, embracing all classes from the lowest grades to the State University, and far surpassing those of any other location on the coast. Then it is within 30 minutes of San Francisco and has half-hourly and splendid communication therewith. Furthermore, it is backed and surrounded by the finest country in the world. A section that produces all the grains, fruits and nuts of the temperate and semi-tropic zones, in finest quality and richest abundance

WITHOUT IRRIGATION!

Its advantages as a manufacturing site are drawing to it many of the chief industries of the State. And it is the natural and inevitable terminus of all transcontinental railroads entering the State. Finally, though rising in value, land is still cheap compared with locations of much less merit, and thus for homes or investment presents splendid opportunities.

This Hotel will be Completed October 1, 1887.

When the Present Price of Lots in the Townsite will be Increased

Twenty-Five and Fifty Per Cent.

NORTH CUCAMONGA, situated on the California Central Railway, 45 miles east of Los Angeles, is the center of 20,000 ACRES of most fertile land, proven to be perfectly adapted to the most successful production of all kinds of Citrus and Deciduous Fruits, 2000 acres of which, including the FAMOUS CUCAMONGA VINEYARD, are now in a high state of cultivation. THE WATER SUPPLY of lands which are tributary to NORTH CUCAMONGA, in its present undeveloped state, amounts to over 1000 MINER'S INCHES, while the ARTESIAN WELL, recently sunk on the company's land, at a depth of 220 feet struck a stream of water which gives promise of an inexhaustible supply with further development.

WATER for the town is delivered in front of each lot under 100 feet pressure, drawn from a tunnel in the hills supplying a flow of over 200 inches.

The town is laid out with broad streets and planted with avenues of trees.

PRICES, until October 1st, $100 to $500 a lot. After that date prices will be advanced twenty-five and fifty per cent. according to location. For further information and maps, apply to Port Ballona!

The Future Harbor of Southern California

THIS IS THE OCEAN TERMINUS OF THE CALIFORNIA CENTRAL RAILROAD, OF THE ATCHISON, Topeka and Santa Fe, system, who are under contract to lay five miles of side-track. The shortest railroad line between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Port Ballona is Situated on Santa Monica Bay,

Only thirty minutes' ride by rail from the city of Los Angeles, with trains to begin running every three hours in the day early in July. Property can be purchased now at a much lower figure than when railroad and steamships are brought together. Port Ballona has two main avenues, one 100 feet and one 80 feet wide, with all other streets 60 feet wide. Residence lots are 40x150, and business lots 25x100 and 25x150 feet. The residence property is at an elevation of from 50 to 75 feet above tide water, thus affording a most magnificent view, extending from Point Duma to the San Jacinto Mountains, and from the San Bernardino Mountains to Santa Catalina Island, in the blue Pacific, and with a BEACH unsurpassed on the coast.

The Beautiful Lake of Ballona

Is one of the greatest features of the place, affording at all times a perfectly safe and pleasant place for sailing and boating of all kinds, and teeming with fish and water fowl. There is also a never-failing spring of pure SULPHUR WATER, and both sulphur and salt water bath-houses are already in course of construction.

WATER WILL BE DELIVERED IN IRON PIPES IN FRONT OF EACH LOT UNDER GOOD PRESSURE.

DAILY HERALD.

COULD NOT FOOL THE COURT.

An Incident in the Career of the Late Judge Longyear.

"I remember a very laughable case arising on the criminal side of the United States Circuit Court a good many years ago, and which I never can forget," said one of the veterans of the Detroit bar to an interested audience a day or two since. "An intelligent man, 30 years old, was charged with a serious offense, and a number of influential friends had interceded with Judge Longyear in the prisoner's behalf, setting forth his previous good conduct. Judge Longyear said he would see about it, and asked to have the prisoner brought into court.

"The Judge questioned the fellow in his homely way as to his antecedents and past history, and received nothing but favorable replies. The young man had never been in trouble before, he said, was of good family, and had committed his first crime more out of ignorance of the law than anything else.

"I never shall forget how the Judge looked as he sat in his chair on that occasion and asked the fellow to stand up and receive sentence.

"'My sentence is,' said Judge Longyear, with a twinkle in his eye, 'that you be confined in the House of Correction for a period of six years from and including this date.'

"If a thunderbolt had struck the courtroom there would have been less surprise. Everyone present had been led to believe by the judge's previous course that he intended to deal leniently with, if not discharge the prisoner. All eyes turned to see the effect on the prisoner, but he did not wince or even move. He looked straight at the judge, and in a pleasant tone inquired: May I ask a favor of your honor?

"'Certainly,' was Judge Longyear's reply.

"'I would like to state, sir,' said the prisoner dryly, 'that I wish I could make it an object for you to change that sentence to twelve years in the State Prison. I have served time in both places, and much prefer a residence in State Prison.'

"I never before or since heard such a roar of laughter in a court room as followed the prisoner's speech, judge and spectators joining. We all were obliged to acknowledge also that Judge Longyear's keenness in estimating characters was greater than ours."—Detroit Free Press.

SHE DROVE A SPLENDID HORSE

And Told Great Stories of Her Military Record.

During the recent Grand Army review in Saratoga no figure was more conspicuous than that of Mrs. Kate Howe, who drove a splendid horse at the head of one of the divisions. She was the observed of all observers and many newspaper correspondents filled their papers with accounts of her actions and sang the praises of "the only woman who ever became a member of the Grand Army of the Republic." Her war record was paraded and many pretty things were said of the woman who fought in the ranks. She claimed to have been wounded in the battle of Shiloh, and to have served in the Twenty-eighth Massachusetts Regiment and the Twenty-seventh Illinois Cavalry. Mrs. Howe had made some statements concerning her war record that caused the old soldiers to stop short in their praises of her and to try to reconcile her language with certain facts, but the more they tried to do so the more hopeless became the task, and the cold fact was forced down them that the "only woman," etc., was considerable of a fraud. The Twenty-seventh Illinois Regiment was found to be an infantry regiment, and it had not yet gone to the front when the battle of Shiloh was fought. The Twenty-seventh Massachuseets did not participate in that battle, but was stationed before Charlestown at that time. Mas. Howe claimed to be a member of Farragut Post of the Massachusetts Department, and at another time of Post Bartlett of Los Angeles, Cal. Both of these claims are groundless. In November, 1885, The National Tribune, the Washington organ of the G. A. R., denounced Mrs. Howe as a fraud on the authority of Gov. Fairchild. It seems that Mr. Howe is a member of Bartlett Post of Los Angeles, but his wife has no connection with it. She has passed under numerous names during the past few years, and each name has some similarity to that of Mrs. Kate Howe. The woman has claimed to be a relative of Gen. Winfield Scott, and to have had an ownership in the Scott family diamonds.—[Amsterdam (N. Y.) Democrat.

British Dinners and Wine.

Gordon said that British dinners were the ruin of the stomach, that they were solemn and gloomy, and provocative of nothing good. Yet nothing can be done in England without a dinner. The British fail to understand that a great many Americans, especially literary men, are of shy temperament, do not covet general society, and often do not feel at home in large, miscellaneous companies; and, beside, that many Americans take long dinners with one to the prejudice of their nerves and stomach and general habits. My observation of British wine, as found in hotels and at private houses, was that it was more injurious than the same wine drank in the United States. The contrary is the idea in America. But I never drank a glass of champagne wine which suited me between New York and Paris. British champagne, for some reason, has no life in it, and they do not know anything about icing it; it is brought to you warm, and is flat stuff, which leaves the stomach next day in a state of torpor.

Sometimes you go to an English house and the host is careful to tell you the age of the wine he is calling out. I generally found that the more the wine was vaunted the worse it agreed with me. They do not know much about claret drinking. They give you a Burgundy, selected without much understanding, and sherry or Madeira, which are heating liquors. Then in the serving of their dinners, unless they have German or French cooks, they do not give you meat adapted to the wine, Henry Horton said to me in London, at a dinner given to Mr. Dana, of New York, by Mr. Brisbane, his correspondent: "My boy, never drink but one kind of wine at dinner, and never drink champagne at all; the best thing you can stick to is a glass of claret and drink if all through the dinner."—[Gath.

After Cleveland, Hill.

In London I met Mr. Ridgeway. He is, I think, the district attorney of Brooklyn, the same against whom charges were recently made by some peripatetic incubus like Anthony Comstock, and the same charges dismissed by Governor Hill. Mr. Ridgeway said to me:

"Dave Hill is going to be the President of the United States for two terms. Of that there is not the least doubt if he lives, and there is very little doubt of his living."

"Will not Cleveland be renominated?"

"Yes, Cleveland will get one more term. Then Hill will get two terms. No power in the world can stop it. He will be Governor of New York a second time, making him Governor for two full terms and part of a third one, and he will get the nomination for President in 1892."

"How long is the Democratic party going to stay in power?"

"Twenty-four years—just as long as the Republicans were in power."

"How do you rate Tilden among Democratic statesmen?"

"He was the greatest of them all since Jefferson. Hill is his pupil and proper successor."—[Gath.

A Printer's Error.

Sweet are the uses of adversity, the printer's copy said, but he set it up, sweet are the uses of advertising. Sweet, indeed, to those who in sickness and suffering have seen the advertisement of some sovereign remedy, which upon trial has brought them from death's door. "The best thing I ever saw in my paper was the advertisement of Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery'" is again and again the testimony of those who have been healed by it of lung disease, bronchial affections, tumors, ulcers, liver complaints and the ills to which flesh is heir.

"Nip't in the Bud!"

Sad to say, many a good thing attains to nothing more than a fair beginning. On the other hand it is a matter for congratulation that the growth of some evil things may be also promptly frustrated. A large proportion of the cases of the most widespread and fatal diseases—consumption—have their inception in nasal catarrh. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is pleasant, soothing and effectual. Try it. It has cured thousands. All druggists.

Heart Disease!

Read the hospital reports, read the mortuary reports, read the medical publications, read the daily newspapers, and learn how widespread is heart disease, how difficult of detection it is by most people, how many and how sudden are the deaths it causes. Then read Dr. Flint's Treatise on Heart Disease, and learn what it is, what causes it, what diseases it gives rise to, what its symptoms are, and how it may be attacked. If you find that you have heart disease ask your druggist for a bottle of DR. FLINT'S HEART REMEDY. The treatise may be had on application.

ORPHAN'S FAIR.

What is Being Done for the Little Ones

AT MOTT'S ARMORY HALL.

List of the Various Booths and the Ladies Who Preside Therein.

The Festival for the benefit of the Orphans' Home commenced last night at Armory Hall, and will be contined during the week. The hall has been profusely decorated with flowers, evergreens and garlands. Chinese lanterns suspended from the ceiling added to the lustre of the occasion. The various booths with their myriads of beautiful bric-a-brac and luxuries, presided over by some of Los Angeles' fairest ladies, in rich costumes made the scene one to be long remembered. The fancy booth was presided over by Mrs. L. L. Bradbury, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Kays, Mrs. O. W. Childs, Mrs. S. M. White, Mrs. C. Suscrist, the Misses Rosa Bradbury, Francis Ferbin, Laura Wagner, E. Clive. This booth was one of the most conspicuous owing to the vast number of articles it contained. In the rear of the booth a large crazy quilt was suspended. Above this a handsome oil painting reaching to the top of the balcony stopped the passers-by to view it. On stands were seen beautiful hand-painted cups and saucers, many of which were painted by the fair hands of Miss Bradbury herself.

Various kinds of artware as well as toilet articles of all kinds were displayed, gifts from all sources, all being for this one great benefit.

A small stand over which a fortune teller presided adjoins this booth.

The grab bag is held by Mrs. Richard Dillon, assisted by Miss Mary Cimmins, Miss Ella Decker, Miss Lizzie Miller and Miss Ella Weameyer. In consideration of a small sum all are entitled to a grab from the bag, the result of which chance gives grabbers one of the many fancy articles here displayed.

Next is the Variety Booth. Here gathered together one may find luxuries almost too numerous to mention. Handsome plush chairs donated by Walton & Wachtel, mahogany tables, the gift of Bryant, Walton & Co., hooks, vases, pictures, besides numerous pieces of bric-a-brac upon which the visitor can either vote, levy, or take a chance, can here be had in countless variety. This booth is presided over by Mrs. Robert Steen, assisted by Miss Hern and Mrs. Hurjey. Much credit is due these ladies for their grand display and for the energy they brought to bear in getting these numerous things together.

The Wheel of Fortune is in charge of Mrs. D. Desmond, assisted by the Misses Desmond. A turn of the wheel brings to the lucky, one of the many beautiful things displayed in this booth.

The Flower Booth has the good fortune to be presided over by Mrs. W. H. Workman, Mrs. Dr. Worthington and Mrs. J. Murretta assisted by Miss N. Workman and Miss E. Hook. These ladies have spared nothing in making this booth a veritable garden spot. It occupies the center of the hall and is in the shape of a peaked cottage. This is filled with the finest of flowers and rarest of plants to say nothing of the beautiful ladies who hover near it and make a paradise for the one who enters. It is tastefully decorated with all kinds of flowers and evergreens. The ladies of this booth have a handsomely Embroidered Smoking Jacket which they will be voted to the most popular Editor besides a handsome Fan to be voted the most popular young lady.

Mrs. G. J. Griffin assisted by Mrs. Yorba, Miss Kate Moran, Miss Mary Thurke and Miss Mary Sanford are in charge of the fancy articles made by the children of the Orphan's home at Mary's Convent. All kinds of needle work abounds here in the shape of tidies, mats, cushions, bags, etc., all made by the children of the orphans' home.

The ice cream booth is in charge of Mrs. John Kenealy, Mrs. J. J. Schallert and Mrs. Dr. Kannon, assisted by the Misses Katie Lindenfeld, Allie Devin, A. Phelan, and the Misses Lecroy. This booth is tastefully decorated and hung with lace curtains and lambrequins. It is inviting in appearance and will,no doubt, bring within it the many lovers of cream and ices.

Mrs. J. M. Worrell and Miss Lecroy have a beautiful dinner set of 125 pieces, which will be raffled off, and of which the fortunate winner may well be proud. It is hand painted and a gift to the orphans' home. Besides this Miss Lecroy has a handsome gold ring, set with garnet, to be raffled off.

The booth over which Mrs. J. J. Rodriguez presides, assisted by Miss M. E. Phillipson, the Misses Carrie and Allie Warren, Miss E. E. Starr and Miss Elvira Winston, contains fancy work of endless variety. All styles of lace spreads cover the side and back of this fairy booth, in which all the secrets of the nursery are portrayed as well as brackets, pictures and paintings of every description. The outer part of the booth is arranged in Japanese style, decorated with fans, parasols, etc., two large ottomans which are to be raffled off occupying the corners.

The lemonade and soda water stand is fitted with the latest appliances for drawing these beverages. Mrs. J. P. Wall is in charge, assisted by Mrs. Davis and Miss Anna Snyder.

The hat-stand is in charge of the Misses Katie King, Belle Robson and Maggie Collins.

The fish pond, one of the most unique booths found in the modern fair, occupies the stand near the door. It is tastefully decorated with all styles of embroidered ware, besides fancy glassware. A large screen stands in the middle of the booth with a fishing rod across. The sportsman tips the pole behind the screens, back of which a young lady stands and fastens some article to be drawn up by the fisherman. This interesting stand is in charge of Mrs. J. K. Chalmers, assisted by Miss McGrath and Miss Gertie Reese. A gold headed cane can also be found in this booth, to be voted to the most popular president of the Y. M. I. of A. Nos. 14, 36 and 51. A handsome picture of the Waterfalls of the Santa Anita Gañon was also on exhibition here, at the side of which another wheel of fortune is located where anything from a pin to a buggy can be drawn.

The confectionary stand where sweets are dispensed by Mrs. J. Jackson, Miss Len Jackson and the Baroness Roginat is constantly besieged by a merry throng who gather around the stand to imbibe the claret punch made by these ladies, and eat as much sweetmeat as their gallant escorts can provide.

The lunch tables located in the balcony are constantly visited by those who wish a good warm lunch cooked in home style. Mrs. Dolores Watson has charge of this department and is assisted by the following ladies, Mrs. Joe Wolfskill, Mrs. Walter Maxwell, Miss Maria Storrs, Miss Ma Rayas Dominguez, Miss Susana Dominguez, Misses May and Anna Carson, Miss Francisco Alexander and Miss Jennie McGee.

Lunch will be served here from 11 till 2, 5:30 to 6:30 and lunch until 10 P. M. every day during the week.

The committee in charge are: Dr. Lindenfeld, A. Schwamm, R. Dillon. F. Sabichi, J. S. Ward, Dr. Kannon, H. C. Lumbrock, Robert Stein, I. B. Dockweiler, B. H. McGurley, J. P. Moran, J. J. Schallert.

A very large attendance was present last night, making the festival a success, both financially and otherwise. The band, composed of Prof. Gardner, piano; Mr. Bochman, violin; Max Forman, cornet, and Mr. Meine, clarionet, furnished excellent music during the intervals.

The festival will be continued during the week, and will undoubtedly bring forth all that its management desires.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Matters of Interest to the School Department.

Last night the board met in regular session in the city hall, President Dr. J. Kurtz, Secretary Mrs. Averill, Mr. F. S. Graham, Mr. C. P. Thurston and Superintendent Friesner present.

The minutes of September 20th and September 27th were read and approved. The rules were suspended and communications taken up. Miss Mary Philips sent in an application for position as teacher. Referred to the teachers' committee. The petition of Miss Eva McCullough for use of rooms in Hellman-street and Spring-street schools was denied, The building committee reported in favor of allowing Smith & Vignow until Saturday, October 8th, to complete pavement in Spring-street school basement. Adopted. The same committee reported the sale of two old furnaces at Spring-street school for $40 to W. C. Furrey. Action of committee approved. The same committee reported that ninety days time could not be obtained on John Maskell lots, but that thirty days time only could be allowed. Same committee reported the HERALD bid lowest for printed supplies. The bid was awarded accordingly.

Mrs. Averill read a communication from the City Attorney concerning the title of lots on Ocean View avenue and Union avenue. Further time was granted.

The action of the High School committee concerning graduating exercises adopted.

The Committe on Night Schoo. was granted further time.

Superintendent Friesner was granted authority to transfer teachers from one building to another where necessary.

Mrs. Averill was authorized to carpet her office in conjunction with that of Superintendent Friesner.

The High School Committee and Superintendent were authorized to revise High School course of study so as to admit graduates to State University without examination.

The firm of Brierly & James were authorized to make the terms for sale of lots at corner of Fourth and Los Angeles streets, one half cash and the other half in six months at 9 per cent.

Various desk agents presented their wares and speeches. The architects followed.

Ordered that Merrill & Cook be paid for supplies already delivered, and their bond for $1000 be accepted for delivery of their supplies.

Finance Committee reported demands from 829 to 859, both inclusive, and warrants were ordered drawn,

Moved and carried that bids for school desks be opened and contract let.

Automatic, $6696.60, J. Denning & Co., Fashion, $7022.15, Merrill & Cook; Paragon, $6727, Hirschfeldt & Co.

The contract was awarded to Messrs. Merrill & Cook, who represent the "Fashion" desk, which was also represented by Chas. E. Bancroft, of the firm of Bancroft Bros. & Co., of San Francisco. This shipment of desks, 2000 in number, will be the largest ever brought to this coast.

Adjourned till Friday.

JAILOR MANNON DISCHARGED.

Sheriff Kays Appoints Mr. Russell to Take His Place.

Sheriff Kays yesterday discharged Jailor Mannon and appointed Deputy Sheriff Russell in his stead. Sheriff Kay's action in this matter has been approved by many of the best citizens, who hold him entirely blameless for the occurrences in connection with the matter. Mr. Kays has made the most conscientious, faithful and untiring sheriff this county has ever possessed, and he feels that he is not to blame for the flight of the trusty Morris. The flight of a trusted man is not an unusual thing in any business, and feels that he is not to blame for what he could not forsee. Upon investigation he found that Jailor Mannon had not obeyed the orders he had given him, and for that reason he discharged him. Mr. Kays selected Mr. Russell to succeed Mannon, and the probabilities are that Mr. Kays will be able to rest easier in the future than in the past.

De Lano's "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Mrs. Stowe's old ante-bellum story of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," as arranged for the stage, has for a whole generation drawn packed houses in the finest theaters in both halves of the globe.

Mr. J. Warren DeLano is among the latest on the road with a company in those old, alleged scenes from Dixie. He plays "Marks, the lawyer," himself, and he does the rôle well. When he wins applause from a house accustomed to see the Stockwell cast to it he must do it well. The house was most demonstrative last night—and such a house, full to the very doors, and noisy as full, so high did the enthusiasm run. Miss Lora Hollis appeared in the double rôle of "Eliza" and "Cassy." She is a young lady of decidedly pleasing presence, and won a full share of recognition. All the cast pleased the large house so well that the applause reached the echo. The play holds the boards at the matinee this evening and also to-night.

Gordon Bro's.

Of San Francisco, will open their new store on the 12th inst. It will be a fine Merchant Tailoring establishment, at 22 South Spring street, opposite the Nadeau House.

TWO CRANKS.

The Lightning Messenger Again in Jail.

A. J. Church, the "lightning messenger" who has greatly annoyed pedestrians on Spring street for some months past by his idiotic grimaces, was yesterday locked up in the city prison by Chief Darcy upon a charge of insanity. It is said that his father is a very wealthy resident of Oakland, and that while very young he was struck on the head with a stick of wood, since which time his mind has been more or less affected.

Church had only just been placed in a cell when Horace Le Fever, another demented individual of the demonstrative kind, was ushered into the prison and assigned to a cell directly opposite the one occupied by Church. Even Le Fever could not stand Church's idiotic smile, and loud were his protestations for being compelled to be under the same roof with him.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Small Boy Jumps Under a Horses Hoofs.

Yesterday afternoon a small boy named Victor Berry, narrowly escaped serious injury, and as it is he will probably be confined to his bed for some time. He was riding in a street car, and as the corner of First and Main streets was reached he jumped off under the feet of a horse which he did not see. He was knocked down but luckily the driver of the horse, Mr. Smith, saw the boy in time and stopped the animal before the carriage reached his body. The boy was carried into Aockerblum's drug store where he was attended by Dr. Kannon, who found that the only injury was on the boy's right leg just above the ankle. The cork of the horse's shoe had scraped the flesh from the bone without doing further injury. Mr. Smith drove the boy to his home.

A NOISY QUARTETTE

Creates a Disturbance on Los Angeles Street.

Yesterday morning a telephonic communication was received at the police station to the effect that a terrible row was in progress on Los Angeles street near Aliso. Chief Darcy and Officer Moore ran down to the spot described and were not at all surprised at the sight that greeted them. In an outhouse two men and two women were holding high carnival, in a state of intoxication. They were very drunk and were exerting all their energies toward demolishing the residences of the neighborhood when the stalwart forms of the officers hove in sight. At the city prison they gave the names of Thomas Curran, Charles Richardson, Annie Day and Louisa Richardson. They were charged with disturbing the peace, and upon depositing $10 bail each they were allowed to go.

Review of New York Stock and Petroleum Markets.

NEW YORK, October 4th,—The stock market to-day was quiet but firm to strong from opening almost to the close, leaving prices generally fractions above yesterday's figures. The temper of the street was quite bullish, but lower prices from Loudon and few foreign selling orders made the early dealings somewhat irregular, though this was of short duration. Government bonds dull and unchanged. Petroleum dull: opening 67½; highest 67 3-8; lowest 67; closing 67¾. Sales, 391,000 barrels.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF Los Angeles—ss. In the matter of the estate of Joseph Le Masne, deceased. No. 3030. Order fixing hearing of petition for sale of real property. In the above entitled matter Emile Vache and H. Allaud as the executors of the last will of Joseph Le Masne deceased, having presented and filed their verified petition to obtain an order for the sale of the real property of the said estate to pay the debts of the said decedent, and the debts, expenses and charges of administration; and it appearing therefrom that it is necessary to sell the whole or some portion of the said real estate for the purposes and reasons aforesaid and mentioned in the said petition. And it also appearing therefrom that the only heirs at law of the said deceased are Honorine Le Masne, Emma Le Masne and Auguste Le Masne, all now living in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California.

Therefore, it is hereby ordered that the said Honorine Le Masne, Emma Le Masne, and Auguste Le Masne and all persons interested in the said estate do appear before this Court, at the court-room of Department No. 2 thereof, in the city of Los Angeles, county of Los Angeles, State of California, Monday, the 31st day of October, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause why an order should not be made in the said matter for the sale of the real property of the said estate, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purposes aforesaid. It is further ordered that a copy of this order be personally served on the said Honorine Le Masne, Emma Le Masne and Auguste Le Masne, and all persons interested in the said estate, at least ten days before the time appointed as aforesaid for the hearing of the said petition. And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published four successive weeks in the Los Angeles weekly HERALD, a newspaper in the county of Los Angeles, State of California. It is hereby further ordered that the previous order of this court, made upon said petition and entered the 20th day of September, 1887, be and is hereby vacated and set aside.

Done in open court this 27th day of September, 1887. A. W. HUTTON, Judge.

DAILY HERALD.

MONTE VISTA.

Description of a Beautiful Section of the Country.

Twenty miles north of Los Angeles, four miles east of the Southern Pacific Railroad in the great pass connecting the San Fernando and the San Gabriel valleys, between the Sierra Madre mountains on the north, and the Verdugo on the south, at an elevation of 1500 feet above the sea is nestled the lovely valley of Monte Vista. Seen from the western approach with the great mountains at its back the view is one of the most enchanting on the Coast. The beautiful Tujunga Park in the foreground a peep at the red roof and observatory of the Hotel Monte Vista, and just beyond the beautiful new church just completed; fields of olive vines and figs; cozy cottages here and there, and the great broad avenues extending up the gradual slope of the valley to the eastern limit of the Tujunga ranch make a view once seen not soon to be forrotten. From the head of Mountain View Avenue is Aztec Avenue looking westward one of the most beautiful scenes in all our beautiful State is presented. Below this the town and valley of Monte Vista, with its grove of magnificent live oaks, the Hotel Monte Vista, the Park Hotel, and numerous cottages, its orchards and avenues. Farther to the westward the great rush of the Big Tujunga winding and spreading in devious ways like innumerable ribbons of silver as it emerges from the mountains into the San Fernando Valley. Clearly distinguishable the towns of San Fernando, and Pacoima. The great Porter Lankershim, Encino and in fact the entire

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY,

With the surrounding mountains of San Fernando, Santa Susanna, Santa Monica and Cahuenga. In the distance over the summits of the mountains surrounding the valley, are the mountains of Soledad on the edge of the desert. If one ascends to one of the higher peaks just above Monte Vista, and to which there is a good trail, the magnificence of the view is simply beyond description. Under our feet like a diminutive chess board is Monte Vista, a diamond in a setting of emerald. Southward lie the Verdugo mountains, the San Fernando valley, the Los Angeles river, the city of Los Angeles, her streets distinctly visible, and all the plain to the sea. Florence, Compton, Anaheim, Orange, Santa Ana, Tustin, Fulton Wells, Downey, Long Beach, Inglewood, Wilmington and the shipping in San Pedro bay; the island of Catalina and the coast line far down to San Diego; all of the San Gabriel valley, the valley of the upper Santa Ana, with Pomona, Riverside, the Temescal, San Jacinto, San Bernardino and San Diego mountains. To the northward the great chain of the Sierra Madres, with its thousand cañons, rocky peaks and fine conical summits, brown and grey contrasts in its majestic ruggedness with the beautiful plains below. It may be said that there is no grander scenery anywhere tnan in the vicinity of Monte Vista, and lovers of Nature can enjoy themselves to whatever extent they desire. During the spring and summer months the mountain side and the valley is covered with flowers of every hue, size and shape. Hundreds of rare flowers and plants may here be found, making it a paradise for botanists. The mountains are full of game, deer being plentiful, while quail are found by thousands.

THE CLIMATIC CONDITIONS

Of Monte Vista are peculiar. Its situation between the mountains is such that it is shut off entirely from the dense fogs which hang over the San Fernando and Los Angeles valleys. The atmosphere is perfectly pure and dry. A delightful breeze from the summits of the Sierras moderates the heat throughout the entire year, so that in the summer time it is much cooler and in winter much warmer than Los Angeles.

The soil in the Monte Vista valley being the loam washed from the mountains is of phenomenal richness and it is adapted to the growing of all kinds of citrus as well as deciduous fruits. Special features in this valley will be the growing of figs, olives, cherries, prunes, oranges, lemons and all small fruits. The water supply of Monte Vista is sufficient for many times the quantity of land. The chief supply is drawn from the Big Tujunga and brought through four miles of iron pipe to the tract. It is deliciously pure and soft and is regarded by all who have used it as the finest water in the county. The improvements that have been made during the past eight months, since the present company, consisting of F. H. Barclay and H. J. Hunt, acquired the property, have been of the most judicious and substantial kind. The tract has been re-surveyed and twenty-eight miles of streets, seventy-five feet wide, laid out. The number of town lots is the smallest of any town site laid out the past year. The subdivisions have been made into ten, five, two and a half and one and a quarter acre lots. The town site is regarded as the best ever devised in this part of the State, the lots being large, alleys in every block and fine parks reserved.

THE NEW HOTEL,

Monte Vista, opened a few days ago to the public, is the best planned, best furnished and best constructed of its size in California. It is managed by the company as a strictly first-class house, and Mr. W. H. Hoffman, formerly in the Arlington, Santa Barbara, has immediate supervision of its guests. The table of the Hotel Monte Vista is unequaled by any hotel in the State. Only white help is employen, the cooking being strictly Eastern family style. No professional hotel cooks are employed.

In addition to the Hotel Monte Vista the company also conduct a second class house known as the Park Hotel. Having both houses, the accommodations of Monte Vista are ample and suited to the means of all.

As a health resort for persons suffering with throat or lung troubles or with rheumatism, Monte Vista is wholly unequalled on this coast. As a location for a home, it is easy of access, and within a few months will have direct railroad communication with Los Angeles and Pasadena. As a place for making money, no place can approach it. It will in a few years produce and pack the finest fruits grown on the coast. The company intend to establish crystalizing and canning works and will prepare only fruits grown in Monte Vista.

Among the features of Monte Vista for the coming season for the enjoyment of guests and visitors will be the construction of swimming baths, dancing pavilion in Tujunga Park, an electric railway, etc.

During the past four months the Monte Vista Land and Water Company have been running expensive excursions to Monte Vista with the sole purpose of making the people acquainted with it. Those who have participated have enjoyed a treat nowhere else to be had. These excursions are not sales, and there are no objectionable features connected with them. They are most delightful in every respect, and the number taken being limited, due attention is given to all. The next excursion will be on Friday, October 7th, and all who wish a delightful time, and want to test a dinner at the new Hotel Monte Vista, can do so. Positively limited to 100. Tickets $1.50 round trip and dinner. For sale at 30 South Spring street, and at San Fernando street depot of Southern Pacific R. R. Co.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[The tenor of communications appearing in this column is not necessarily endorsed by the editor of the HERALD. The writer who desires to be heard in it should always accompany his screed with his full names not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.]

Why Call a Halt?

EDITORS HERALD:—Three months ago there was published in the HERALD a sketch of the plans of the sewer system of the city. These plans have therefore been before the people ninety days, and have not been objected to by a single individual. In addition, the City Council invited Col. Waring, the famous engineer, to pass upon the plans, at an expense of $500 for his services, and in addition, secured the services of the eminent sanitary engineer, Rudolph Herring, who made an exhaustive examination of the proposed system, and after modification endorsed it, at an expense of $950.

All these plans and modifications were before the City Council and published in printed form, and unanimously adopted as a matter of emergency or eminent necessity. After all this consideration of the matter

THE VETO OF THE ORDINANCE

Came like a thunderclap in a clear sky. The idea of the appointment of a new commission with increased expense and a delay that shall have no end is a calamity to the city. Millions of dollars that would have been expended in the construction of buildings that could have ample connection with the new sewer system will go elsewhere, where people are not afraid to pay taxes for the construction of sewers. All the cities of South California except Los Angeles have gone to work to make a sewer system. After the City Council had selected a City Engineer and invited two eminent and disinterested sanitary engineers to join him in maturing a plan, which seemed so reasonable and necessary that the plan was adopted unanimously, it seems strange that on the reception of a veto of the same that it should not have been passed unanimously over the veto.

The appointment of a new commission means about $5,000—increased expense to the tax-payer and a delay that will arrest the construction of millions of dollars worth of new buildings and transfer that amount of capital to other towns for investment. Calling a halt in sewer making is an attempt at financial suicide. In conversation yesterday with leading taxpayers, they express extreme indignation at the veto of the sewer ordinance and express hope that the City Council will again pass the ordinance as before unanimously. If the measure was right last week it is quite right now.

M.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Where is Postal Order Clerk Ed. M. Wood?

It transpired yesterday that the postal order clerk at the postoffice, Mr. Ed. M. Wood, had disappeared, and no one knew where to. Under such circumstances, of course, the first rumor to get abroad was that he was short in his accounts. It is a great pleasure in the present instance to be able to state that such is not the case. Mr. Wood is a brother of Fred. W. Wood, one of the best known young men in the city. From this gentleman the following details have been learned: The missing man has been here about three months, having came to this city from Alameda, of which place he has been a resident for some time past. His wife remained behind in Alameda, and he was just making preparations for her removal here; and to this end he was getting a house built on Victor street. Mr. Wood roomed with his son in a house on Arroyo street. Last Saturday night at 8 o'clock Wood went out to the stable, and there asked some person if there was an early train to San Bernardino. Learning there was, he returned to the postoffice, where he remained from 9 to 10 o'clock. When he was leaving he gave his keys to Harry Thornton, asking that one, if he did not return Monday morning, to hand the keys to Ben Straus. He then left the office, and that is the last heard of him, so far as any one here is informed. Once before, Mr. Wood took a Sunday trip to San Bernardino, and was gone until Tuesday. It was thought until late Monday that he had again taken such a trip, and therefore no notice was taken of his disappearance. But, not coming back at that time, his friends became alarmed.

The first step made was to ascertain how his affairs stood at the office. Postmaster Preuss and Fred Wood, both excellent accountants, at once examined the books and cash, and found both correct to a cent. On Tuesday, the son of the missing man went to San Bernardino to search for him.

The following is a description of the estray: A man of about 46 years old, 5 feet 5 inches in height, with a stoop in the shoulders, and weighing about 150 pounds. He shaves, excepting a small dark moustache. He was dressed in a suit of gray clothes and wore a felt hat.

THE CHARGE DISMISSED.

Charles Moore Not Guilty of Stealing Cattle.

Charles Moore, charged with the larceny of ten head of cattle belonging to Wm. M. Bailey and B. F. Porter, of San Fernando valley, and valued at $400, was examined before Justice Taney yesterday afternoon. The ten steers had been picked up by the vaqueros of Don Miguel Leonis while driving one of their master's herds from Elizabeth lake to the Calabasas ranch under the mistaken impression that they were a little bunch of cattle lost by Charley Gassen, the butcher. The animals were taken up by them to earn a little reward for their return, but when they were identified by Bailey as his own they were at once given up. Moore was one of Leonis' vaqueros, but the evidence did not disclose anything else but that he said that Gassen had written him about ten lost steers. This was denied by Mr. Gassen on the stand. Assistant District Attorney Denis, after hearing all the evidence, moved for the defendant's discharge, which was granted.

ILL LUCK WITH MULES.

Contractor Burlingame Bought Poor Stock.

E. C. Burlingame commenced suit in the Superior Court yesterday to recover $3145 damages from H. B. Short. The plaintiff alleges that on the 22nd of July last he bought from defendant twenty mules and four wagons, the defendant guaranteeing that the mules were sound and healthy, and adapted to the work of grading. Mr. Burlingame paid $2500 for the animals and wagons and thought he had received the value of his money. A short time afterwards he learned that twelve of the mules had the glanders, which disease was communicated to a horse valued at $150. All but seven of the mules died and the hosre died, and Mr. Burlingame wants $3145 damages.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

A Long Search for a Man Wanted in Fresno.

L. Valenguella was arrested yesterday by Deputy Constable Roberts and locked up in the county jail. Some time ago a dispatch was received from the constable at Madera, Fresno county, announcing that Valenguello was wanted there upon a charge of petty larceny for having robbed a friend's trunk of a quantity of clothing. Roberts located him in this city, but when he went to arrest him he learned that he had just left for San Diego. Roberts started in pursuit but missed his man and was compelled to return to this city without him. A few days ago the prisoner returned and went to work in a livery stable on Jackson street, at which place he was arrested.

Insanity Matters.

Judge O'Melveny yesterday noon examined Leopold Grasswold and Jennie Grant, two lunatics confined in the county jail. The former is the proprietor of the Three Mile House, on the road to Sepulveda. He became violently insane some time ago and has since attempted to butt out his brains. The medical examiners found that he was insane and Judge O'Melveny made an order committing him to Stockton. Deputy Sheriff Frank Benedict immediately afterward started North with him.

Mrs. Jennie Grant, the unfortunate woman who is suffering from puerperal fever, was found raving. After a consultation it was agreed to keep her at the county jail for one week under proper medical care, as it is expected that an abatement of the disease may restore her to her senses.

Hyoscyamus and Belladonna.

Chas. J. Waterhouse commenced suit in the Superior Court yesterday to recover $10,000 damages for injuries to his health, alleged to have been caused by P. T. Huckins. Plaintiff alleges that defendant is a physician, and that from the 1st of October, 1885, to June 27, 1887, plaintiff was under his care, having employed him to cure him of a malady. Plaintiff now alleges that defendant did not use skill in treating his case and was guilty of gross ignorance. On the 27th of June the defendant told plaintiff to take a certain dose of a compound of Hyoscyamus and Belladonna, which he did, and the dose injured him greatly, so much that he prays judgment for $10,000.

The Music Stand.

The pavilion at the 6th street park is almost completed. The painters are putting on the finishing touches and in a few days it will be ready for the band. It is a finely constructed piece of architecture with a high dome on the northern end under which, on an elevated stage, the band will play. The other end will contain benches for the accommodation of the public. The posts and trimmings are richly carved giving this gothic structure an unique appearance, and making it an evening retreat for the citizens who wish to be entertained by choice musical selections.

Marriage Licenses.

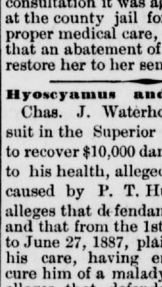

The following-named persons were yesterday granted license to wed: Clement Chase to Lulu Edwards; G. W. Ritz to M. E. Mahony; D. J. Moody to E. S. Bowers; F. Clark to A. Taylor; H. F. Dunham to E. Scott; J. G. Scarborough to F. Pendleton; O. Haralson to B. Pendleton.

NEWS NOTES.

The aggregate of yesterday's transfers of real estate was $247,238.

The little folks are delighted. Robinson's circus will be here next week.

Sheriff Kays has appointed Deputy Sheriff Russell Chief Jailor in the place of George Mannon, removed.

The races at the District Fair will be probably continued on Monday and Tuesday, the 17th and 18th October.

Good hotel men are very scarce. A thoroughly competent man applied for such a place to-day under the head of Wanted.

Dr. P. J. O'Neill has received a beautiful engraving of the Battle of Fontenoy, which he has at his room in the Medical College.

The trial of John L. Fonck, charged with assault to murder, will take place at 10 o'clock this morning in Department One of the Superior Court.

The till of "Browns" saloon, corner of Marchessault and New High streets was tapped yesterday morning at about 4 o'clock and $12 taken out of it.

Assistant District Attorney Denis yesterday filed an information in Department One, charging Ed. Houseman with grand larceny. The defendant will be arraigned to-morrow.

James Sanbery was arrested on Upper Main street at 10 o'clock last night for indecent exposure. Justice Austin will see him this morning.

Traffic of the Southern Pacific and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe is very heavy this week, and crowds of people are continually arriving from all parts of the East.

A notice left at the police office yesterday afternoon reads: "Mr. Steer of 35 Bernard street lost a little boy and a woman." Who has found a little boy and a woman?

Frank Weldt, of San Pedro, was brought to this city yesterday and committed to the county jail for ninety days on two charges of battery and disturbance of the peace.

Tickets from the City Street-car Company have been issued to all school children at half rate, to be used only between the hours of 8 A. M. and 6 P. M. and not on Saturday or Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Wood, residing on First street near San Pedro, missed her pocketbook in getting off the car in front of her house yesterday. She took the next car to the stables but failed to find any trace of it.

In the divorce suit of Rodgers vs. Rodgers, Judge Cheney yesterday made an order by which the defendant is to pay his wife $10 a month alimony, $25 costs and $100 attorney's fees, payable in four installments.

Frederick McGregor yesterday was allowed to retire as counsel for the defense in the cause of the people against Tom Gormley, charged with rape. Judge Cheney will this morning appoint a new attorney to defend the fiend.

"Our City Band" is getting up a picnic for the express purpose of purchasing a new uniform, which is needed very much. The band is an old stand-by and second to none in the State. Undoubtedly the citizens will turn out in full force.

Mr. Birnbaum, owner of the Three Mile House, where Leopold Grasswold, who was sent to the lunatic asylum yesterday, kept his saloon, reported yesterday to the Sheriff that a tramp had invaded the premises and was holding the fort against everyone.

Judge Cheney yesterday morning in Department One continued the trial of Frank Alviso until November 7th at 10 A. M. The defendant stands charged with having, in company with another man now undergoing his sentence in the penitentiary, robbed some Chinamen at the Old Mission, San Gabriel, during the latter part of last year.

Personal Mention.

Capt. E. B. Hall, of Santa Barbara, is in the city.

Judge Anson Brunson left for the north yesterday, to be gone a few days.

W. B. Dukin, manager of the Palomares Hotel, Pomona, is a guest at the Pico.

Doctor Poaps and A. L. MacDonald are stopping at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco.

Wm. Kingman, of Boston, and John Perrin, of Baintree, Ills., are visiting the city.

P. N. Bowen, of Bowen Bros., of San Francisco, is visiting his friend Mr. Fletcher, in this city.

Mr. R. S. Ewing, one of the leading portrait painters of Chicago, is at the Pico House, with his family.

Revs. A. Muller, R. Diekneitz and F. G. Reiman, three priests from Quincy, Ills., are at the Pico.

Moses Hopkinson and party left yesterday morning in special car Francisco for Santa Barbara, Cal.

Mark L. Regna, of Oakland, is in the city. Mr. Regna, some time since, bored the artesian wells at Indio, and reclaimed many acres of land.

Mr. Barnard, one of the well-known hotel men of Massachusetts, is stopping at the New United States Hotel with mine host Woodward.

J. R. Winans and W. R. Bissell, General Passenger Agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Company, of San Francisco, were at the Depot Hotel yesterday.

Ed. Roth and wife left for San Francisco yesterday evening to be present at the wedding of Joseph Roth, brother of Mr. Roth. They propose to remain about ten days.

Bob Armstrong, a well-known conductor and an old and reliable servant of the Southern Pacific is in Los Angeles, and engaged on the northern run between town and Mojave.

John Cashin, one of the owners of the Union Ice Company, the gigantic corporation which has an agency in every town of importance on the Pacific Coast, arrived from San Francisco last night, and is stopping at the Nadeau. Mr. Cashin is on a tour of inspection of the company's agencies, and will remain in Los Angeles several days.

HELD TO ANSWER.

A Chinaman Who attempts to stab Sergeant Jeffries.

The trial of Ah Gen charged with an assault with a deadly weapon came up yesterday before Justice Austin. As will be remembered on the 14th ult., while Sergeant Jeffries and posse were taking a set of prisoners up Aliso street, the result of a raid in Nigger Alley, the accused was about to disembowel the sergeant when caught by Officer Moffet.

The prosecution made out a strong case. The defense endeavored to prove that the prisoner was simply endeavoring to free the Chinamen who were tied together with a rope to prevent their escape, but the court thought otherwise, and held him to answer, with bail set at $800.

Incorporated.

The Los Angeles Panorama Company has filed articles of incorporation reciting the fact that the new corporation shall be styled the Los Angeles Panorama company, and that the purposes for which it is formed are to purchase, sell, lease, or exchange, exhibit, barter or deal in Panorama paintings and other works of art, and buy, sell, rent or lease real estate, and transact any and all kinds of business of a like nature.

The principal place of business will be here in Los Angeles and the term of life of the incorporation has been nominated at fifty years. The number of Directors or Trustees of the new concern is nominated at nine, and the following gentlemen will fulfill the duties incumbent upon them as such Directors for the first fiscal year: Walter S. Maxwell, I. N. Breed, Robert Turner, D. Freeman, A. Brunson, F. A. Eastman, Henry Bartling, Lyman Bridges and J. Downey Harvey, all of Los Angeles.

Fire Commissioners.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners the following resolutions were, on motion of Mr. Breed, unanimously adopted;

Resolved, That after a careful investigation we find no cause to censure the fire department for any direlection of duty in extinguishing the fire in Chinatown on the night of July 24th, 1887.

Resolved, That this Board tender its thanks to Walter S. Moore, for the faithful and efficient manner in which he has discharged his duties as Chief Engineer of the Los Angeles Fire Department.

A Horse Stolen.

A horse was stolen last night at half-past 8 o'clock from the barn of A. E. Bowser, Beaudry street, No. 25. The people at the house discovered the larceny a little while after its commission, but then the horse and the thief were out of sight. Officer S. Arguello, who went to the house immediately, rode all over the neighborhood, but did not succeed in finding the steed. Mr. Bowers will give $25 for the recovery of the horse, and Chief Darcy $25 for the arrest of the thief.

Another Demented Person.

A crazy man, name unknown, yesterday afternoon boarded the train at Colton for Los Angeles. He developed into a regular maniac, and was armed with razors, which he flourished in a dangerous and threatening manner. To prevent a collision of the maniac with the passengers, he was let off at Alhambra to be dealt with according to law. He will probably be heard from to-day.

SPECIAL NO. 4.

"The old oligarchy of Greece now abolished
Were jolly and genial and fond of the arts,
Their tastes were refined, their manners were polished,
But their manner of living affected their hearts.

They neglected their business, they gave themselves airs,
Read the poets in Greek, supped their wine, took their rest,
Never troubling their beautiful heads with affairs,
And as for their morals—the least said the best.

The scandal grew greater and greater; and then
An appeal to the people was formally made,
The old gods were displaced by the suffrage of men
And a popular government formed in their stead."

But time rolls around, and Athena and Juno
And Daphne and Hebe and Flora and Crete,
And a dozen or more Heathen women whom you know,
Each finds work at LEUCADIA, naming a street.

The lyre that in Hades once twanged for Eurydice
Now praises LEUCADIA, Queen of our Coast,
And the lyre tells the truth when it says ne'er before did I see
A place where the truth seems a lie and a boast.

Where else is a spot where the fig and the pumpkin
Will grow side by side without water or care,
And each visitor feel as if he were some kin
To a God when he breathes the electrical air?

If a man has a hundred or two hundred handy,
He will buy a lot there, not a day will he wait,
For LEUCADIA the lovely, the darling, the dandy,
Is the brightest and neatest young town in the State.

For climate, for health, for beauty or business,
LEUCADIA we praise in Hexameters slow.
Let our readers with spi its elated to dizziness,
Attend at the auction and bid with a bow.

There are hundreds of thousands of acres of land in Los Angeles, San Bernardino and San Diego counties, suitable for orchards and vineyards.

But there is only one seaside, and only one LEUCADIA. There are hundreds of thousands of acres now dry and uncultivated, which can by labor be changed into garden orchards.

But there is only one strip of land which fronts the sea, only one fundamental chord upon which the surges of ocean sound their mighty diapason, only one place where Dame Nature wears her skirt of translucent beryl embroidered with foamy lace. And nowhere is this music-room and picture gallery of the Deity so attractive as at LEUCADIA.

Capital can construct reservoirs and flumes and railroads; it can make distant acres accessible, and cause arid acres to undulate with verdure.

But the wealth of Jay Gould could not bring the iodined healing breath of ocean to the bedside of the invalid in the hot valley, or add one yard to the present limited supply of ocean beach.

We say limited—go to the map and look!

All the seaside north of Santa Barbara may be eliminated from the list of available ocean-side property. The Japanese ocean current—the "Gulf Stream" of the Pacific, in its southward journey from Arctic waters hugs the shore closely from the Straits of Fuca to Point Concepcion. The result is cold water—too cold for comfortable bathing. Monterey, for instance, is in the latitude of Savannah, Georgia, but nine people out of ten who visit Monterey bathe in the big tanks where the water is warmed by artificial heat, and do not bathe in the ocean. As for Santa Cruz, there is a couplet written by some shivering pleasure seeker, on the walls of a bath-house there, which couplet accurately expresses the situation.

"Santa Cruz water is like Scotch snuff,
One "dip," and you've got enough."

At Point Concepcion—just above Santa Barbara—the cold, ocean current curves southward in a direct course, while the Coast line deflects eastwardly at a sharp angle, and in a few miles the water, under the genial suns of this latitude, becomes warm enough to make bathing in any month of the y ar a real pleasure instead of "a painful duty reluctantly performed," as Millard Fillmore said when he signed the Fugitive Slave Law, and as Brigham Young remarked when he married his eighteenth wife.

From Santa Barbara south to Point Vicente, there is but little coast that is available for seaside resorts. The beach is too steep for driving, and the surf consequently too heavy to make bathing either pleasant or safe, while the bluff along the beach is several hundred feet in height, and cut up with arroyos, so as to make the ocean practically inaccessible to all except Alpine tourists and crows.

From Point Vicente to San Pedro there are probably twenty or thirty miles of available beach, along which are the towns of Santa Monica, Ballona, Long Beach, etc.

Below San Pedro there are only mud flats and lagoons, until San Juan by the sea is reached. Leaving San Juan, there is no ground available for a seaside resort until the mouth of Temecula Cañon is crossed and Oceanside reached. At Oceanside, the direct road from Los Angeles to San Diego, now in process of construction, will connect with the California Southern Railroad from Colton to San Diego. Oceanside lots are held at good figures, fifteen hundred dollars for a lot on the Ocean avenue and five hundred dollars for residence lots a mile and more from the beach. South of Oceanside is the Agua Hedionda. It has several miles of fine seaside, but the owner is able to keep it, he will not sell at any price, and if you annoy him with an attempt to talk about selling, he will make the interview as brief as may be consistent with courtesy. Then comes Carlsbad, and it is a beautiful location, and there will be a large town there, and prices of lots are already away up, as they ought to be. From Carlsbad south there are lagoons, sand dunes and broken ground until you reach the mouth of the San Marcos. From the San Marcos south to Encenitas is the prettiest site in the world for an ocean city, and on this site is "Leucadia"—the subject of our sketch—lies in the lap of Paradise. She is the fairest of all the fair daughters of the sea. She is the Venus Amphridite of Southern California. The beach is hard and level. You can drive along it for twelve miles. For bathing there is no need of lines, for the surf is so light it would not upset a baby, and there being no lagoons near there are in consequence no stingrays. From the edge of the bluff over, hanging the beach the ground slopes gently up to the top of the first ridge, then it descends gently to a valley, through which the railroad runs, then there is a gradual ascent to the top of the second ridge a mile or so away.

The amazing thing about Leucadia, and in which it differs from every other seaside in California, is in the wonderful fertility of its soil. The valley and hill slopes are covered with Fig, Apricot, Eucalyptus and other trees, and they are green with vineyards and corn fields.

Leucadia is in process of preparation for the market. Streets and avenues have been cleared, graded, staked and named after Greek deities and personages. A drinking fountain and bath house are being erected at a white sulphur well on Hygeria avenue. Bath houses on the beach and steps and grades thereto have been constructed. A railroad station, after the model of the Pantheon, has been built, and a dining-room which is conducted by a skilful cook. An underground stream of water has been struck which will be raised by cyclone mills to a reservoir on the summit of a high hill, from which pipes are now being laid through the avenues.

TWO HUNDRED LOTS WILL BE OFFERED AT AUCTION ON WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1887, and no lots will be sold before that date. There will be an excursion train from Los Angeles to San Diego and return, leaving Los Angeles, Tuesday, October 25th, 1887. Holders of excursion tickets on this train will receive at the office of the Combination Land Company, in San Diego, free excursion tickets to Leucadia and return to San Diego. There will be music, and teams for driving on the beach and terraces, and a fine lunch, all free; and then, after a preliminary address by MR. THOMAS FITCH, on "Southern California and the Boom," the prince of auctioneers, MR. H. H. MATLOCK, will offer at aution lots in THE MOST BEAUTIFUL, FERTILE AND ACCESSIBLE SEASIDE CITY IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. For maps and information, apply at the office of H. H. MATLOCK & SON, 111 West First Street, Los Angeles, or at the San Diego office of CATARRH.

THE TERM CATARRH IS APPLIED TO A peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts, which prevails to an alarming extent, and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristi feature is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times.

In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acrid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent or muco-purulent, greenish-yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fetid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the morbid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow downward his rest is frequently disturbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the passage between the throat and head, adhering to the parts with quite tenacity. Its lodgment embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistible desire to relieve that discomfort by drawing the mucus into the throat so as to eject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one affected as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the shape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incrustations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produce serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts; not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane. Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled, on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which, in time, may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities and then putrefies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering, and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room; and there are others in which all the secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing a disagreeable feeling of dryness, heat and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fulness, heat, irritation, soreness or pain in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above and behind the soft palate. Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temple, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbits, and, occasionally, pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted, and at times assumes an exceeding fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and conjested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable, stuffy sensation in the head, and occasioning violent and prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky, or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffing quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the part, and frequent attempts to clear the throat of phlegm, producing the sound "hem," more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat, and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness, for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others; again, speak of a constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth or throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less and becomes weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility, is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times fearful, timid, agitated and inclined to drowsiness and sleep, the memory weakened and permanent impairment seriously threatened.

The mucous membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and in spite of the utmost care becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that at last a breath of wind upon the lining of the nose or throat becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse and involving a larger extent of surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat, larnyx, trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucous membrane, such as the stomach, bowels, kidneys, etc.

By the employment of proper inhalations in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedy at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless the disease has advanced to the chest and that both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address
